WHERE IS SHE GOING? WHY? — Each year, say Marin County police departments, the number of youngsters who run away from their homes here increases. Where's a child going who gets out on the lonesome road? Why? The IJ begins the first of a series of stories on runaways today. (Independent-Journal Photo by Jim Kean)

THE RUNAWAY CRISIS

Youngsters Leave Homes More Than Ever Before

By THERON A. NEWELL

(First of three articles)

"Hello, Mrs. X? This is the sheriff of Sweetwater County in Rock Springs, Wyo. We have your son Marc here. We found him out on Highway 30, in his car which was out of gas. We'll hold him here until you pick him up."

"Is he all right? Has he done something wrong?" a frantic mother's voice asked from her Novato home.

The calm voice of the sheriff reassured her that her son was all right and had done nothing wrong.

"Can I talk to him?"

"He said he'd rather not talk to you until you get here," the sheriff told her.

Two days later the frantic parents were reunited with their runaway son and together they drove back to Marin County.

In another case, Sausalito police department received notice that a runaway 15-year-old girl from their city was being held in the San Francisco Juvenile Hall. She had been picked up in Haight-Ashbury.

In another Marin County police department, an anonymous caller told police that Sue—who was wanted by them as a runaway—was staying at such and such an address. Police went there, got the girl and returned her to her home.

These are just three of the examples of the increasing work of the police in returning juveniles to their homes.

Youngsters are running away from home in Marin at the rate of 63 a month.

"Our runaways have doubled since three years ago and we have had a sharp upturn in the past four months," said Chief David Terzich of Mill Valley.

These children have not committed any crime. They reach police attention because they have run away from home. Only when they are habitual runaways or are beyond parental control do they get sent to juvenile hall, said James B. Soetaert, director of probation service for the Marin County Probation Department.

Police departments all over the county reported a trend of increasing numbers of runaways. It started three or four years ago, but the rate has gone up this year.

Israel Charges Jordanians Provoke Attacks At River

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Jordanian troops attacked Israeli positions deliberately to provoke retaliation, Israeli military sources said today. They cited yesterday's conflict as an example and said they could not understand why Jordan had adopted such a policy.

In Jerusalem officials reported an Israeli Army patrol today struck a landmine presumably planted by Arab terrorists whose footprints were traced to the Jordan River, which separates Israeli and Jordanian positions. No casualties were mentioned in the incident, one mile southeast of Maoz-Hayim in the Beisan Valley.

TO PASS

The U.N. Security Council today was expected to pass a British resolution designed to bring peace to the Middle East. Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser was preparing a major speech on the Mideast in the expectation that the Security Council would approve the British measure.

Jordan said Israel started the shooting yesterday.

Israeli army officials said yesterday's attack in which Jordan claimed downing two Israeli planes, destroying two Israeli tanks and knocking out two Israeli battle stations could have been authorized only by an officer of at least brigadier rank. They said the Jordanian army was too well disciplined for a junior officer to initiate the fighting on his own volition.

Israel said only one of its French Mystere jets was downed. The Israelis claimed they destroyed during the four-hour conflict six Jordanian tanks and "silenced" Jordanian artillery directed at them.

Israel said it suffered two dead and one wounded in the clash. Jordan made no casualty report.

CLASH

The four-hour clash was the worst ground action in the Middle East since the June 5-10 war.

Diplomats at the United Nations were predicting passage of the British proposal, which calls for Israeli withdrawal, an end to the Arabs' state of belligerency against Israel, a special U.N. envoy to the Mideast and free navigation in international waterways. A rival Soviet measure was expected to fail.

THANKSGIVING IS HOLIDAY FOR MOST ALL

All governmental offices, schools and nearly all stores will be closed tomorrow for Thanksgiving.

Schools will remain closed Friday, as will the City of Novato and Novato Sanitary District offices. Hamilton Air Force Base will give all non-essential personnel a holiday tomorrow.

The Tamalpais High School Saturday morning recreation program will not operate to give staff a four-day holiday.

Special Thanksgiving services in Marin churches are listed on page 24.

The IJ will publish tomorrow and will include a three-section Christmas gift section and two tabloids filled with ideas for holiday gifts.

Turks Planning Cyprus Invasion?

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A sudden blackout on Turkish weather reports heightened speculation today that Turkey was poised for a military invasion of Cyprus.

A dispatch from Ankara, where snow flurries fell from a heavy overcast, said there were rumors that only bad weather was holding up a sea or airborne movement of Turkish battalions to the island to match Greek forces already here.

Greek forces and Turkish Cypriots fought last week.

GOP Leader Claims Secret March Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said today the White House has a secret report showing that Communists organized the Oct. 21 peace march on the Pentagon.

Ford told the House that President Johnson read the report to Republican leaders at the White House subsequent to the march and that he assumed it also had been made available to key Democrats. He urged Johnson to make public the facts.

Jet Said Below Its Flight Path

CINCINNATI (UPI) — An aviation official said today a Trans World Airlines jet which crashed near Greater Cincinnati Airport Monday night killing 66 of the 82 persons aboard "was way below normal" in its flight path.

Philip Swift, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Aeronautics, said the plane should have been about 1,000 feet above a hill into which it crashed on a farm in Hebron, Ky. The Convair 880 sheared trees for about one-half mile from the spot where it crashed.

The airport is located in Kentucky, six miles south of Cincinnati across the Ohio River.

Short Take Off Planes Planned

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Tentative plans for a new type of airport in San Rafael have been approved by the State Aeronautics Board.

Designed for special airplanes for short take off and landing (STOL) in only a few hundred feet, the airport would be the second STOL airport in the world according to one of the two men who prepared the proposal, Lee A. Dickinson of Kentfield.

The other one opened last month at Bear Valley, a ski resort in Alpine County, he said. "There will be many more," he predicted.

The plans will be submitted for approval to the city's planning commission "within 30 days," Dickinson said. Approval by the city is the last official hurdle to be cleared, he said.

The co-authors of the plans is David J. Dorward, a partner in Cagwin and Dorward, San Rafael landscape contractors.

Dickinson, a sales executive for a San Francisco wine company, explained the STOL airplane needs a runway about one-third the length of a conventional runway, thus the airport would not accommodate conventional airplanes.

Blunt Replies Are Becoming Johnson Style

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson began his fifth year in the White House today inclined to reply in blunt language to critics of his Vietnam policy.

Johnson is known to be pleased by public reaction to last Friday's televised news conference at which he offered a preview of his 1968 re-election campaign style.

TELEGRAMS POUR IN

He considers the telegrams and letters which poured into the White House during the weekend as evidence that many Americans had been waiting for him to come out swinging against his critics.

He considers the telegrams a bombing pause. But he is equally convinced that any prolonged pause would enable the Communists to resupply and regroup below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) with a consequent greater threat to U.S. forces.

White House visitors come away visibly impressed by what the consider Johnson's angry impatience with Americans, including some in high positions who disagree with administration policy in Southeast Asia.

NOT BELLIGERENT

The President says publicly and privately that so-called peace activists in this country seem to forget that Ho Chi Minh also could help bring about peace; that ending the war is not solely the province of this country or Saigon.

He considers the telegrams a bombing pause. But he is equally convinced that any prolonged pause would enable the Communists to resupply and regroup below the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) with a consequent greater threat to U.S. forces.

The President's attitude is not belligerent toward war critics in general. But he is convinced too many Americans somehow have been sold on the idea that the war will end at once if the United States will only get out of Vietnam.

Johnson discounts the withdrawal-and-peace theory.

In the field of domestic affairs, the President fears that preoccupation with Vietnam may have blinded many of his fellow countrymen to his administration's accomplishments in the past four years.

CIVIL RIGHTS

He feels this is true particularly in the field of civil rights. He believes more has been done for the American Negro since he became President than during the tenures of at least the last four chief executives put together.

His major disappointment is that he has been unable to achieve peace in Southeast Asia. Another source of regret is U.S. inability to reach any sort of understanding with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The bombs and artillery shells smashed into the summit just ahead of a battalion of the Army's 173rd Airborne Brigade and about 100 men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division, the unit that made its Vietnam debut in the Ia Drang campaign two years ago.

Medi-Cal Trouble Extends Session

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A new fiscal battle brewed today between Gov. Ronald Reagan and Democrats after he extended the special session to a politically sensitive topic: the state health care program.

Reagan asked legislators yesterday to give him undisputed authority to trim Medi-Cal spending to within a $600 million limit set last summer by the legislature for this fiscal year.

The program of medical care for the poor now faces $71 million in red ink. Reagan told a quickly called news conference, and more new taxes would be the only alternative if the legislature fails to act.

The urgency of the situation, and the accuracy of Reagan's figures, were challenged by Assembly Democratic leaders.

They and other legislators, weary after more than 235 days in session this year, had hoped to adjourn the special session this week after completing action on court-ordered reapportionment of congressional districts.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

United Republicans, joined by some dissident Democrats, block for the time being adoption of a compromise congressional reapportionment plan.

THE GOVERNOR

Announced he's extending the special legislative session to consider the financial dilemma of California's program of medical care for the poor.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Leaping Out

PASADENA (UPI) — Scientists have decided not to order Surveyor 6 to play kangaroo on the Moon again because the spacecraft does not have enough rocket fuel left for a second leap.

Controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory here had considered commanding Surveyor 6 to fire its three vernier rockets and shift its location 1,000 feet from its present position in the Moon's Central Bay region.

Last Friday the spacecraft rose 10 feet into the air and came down eight feet to one side of its original landing site.

Up For Sale

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The childhood home of actress Shirley Temple, complete with barred windows to protect her from kidnappers, will be auctioned off Dec. 5.

The five-bedroom English manor house is located in the exclusive Brentwood area. Inside are such amenities as a soda fountain and a recreation area.

The actress, now Mrs. Shirley Temple Black, was defeated last week in her bid to represent California's 11th Congressional District in Washington.

Red Rioting

HONG KONG (UPI) — Four men were arrested in a communist-instigated battle with police in the new territories town of Tsuen Wan, police reported today.

About 50 policemen investigating a report that bombs were planted in an intersection last night were pelted with bottles and the battle erupted. Four of the 16 suspected bombs in the area proved to be real and were detonated by explosives experts.

Resolutions adopted:

Senate — Asks for development of sonic landing and takeoff aircraft as a means of reducing low-flying aircraft noise over residential areas; SR 26, Kenrick, D-Long Beach.

Resolutions adopted:

Senate — Condems State Supreme Court for ordering congressional reapportionment; SCR 5, Schmitz, R-Tustin.

Dixie District

Due More Funds

The Dixie School District is entitled to $10,381 more than it received from the area-wide tax, according to an adult report submitted to the school trustees last night by Solderblom and Company of San Rafael.

Trustees asked Supt. Dennis B. Wills to find out from the county superintendent of schools to the district.

When this money would be sent, The Dixie School Trustees also:

GIFT — Accepted a gift of science kits valued at $350 from the Santa Margarita School Parent-Teacher Association.

BIDS — Agreed to meet on Dec. 13 to act on bids for construction of a six-classroom addition to Vallecito School.

IN MEMORY — Adjourned in memory of the late Bernard Hoffman, former member of the board of trustees who served for 50 years, from 1907 to 1957.

Sailors Brawl

ALICANTE, Spain (UPI) — American sailors from the vessels Mountaineer and Donner were prohibited today by their superiors from going ashore because they fought with Spaniards. The action followed a rampage by U.S. sailors through the streets yesterday in which windows were broken, doors knocked down and brawling that left at least one townsman injured.

Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, who announced plans for the informal meeting yesterday, said it had State Department approval. U.S. diplomats in Saigon will extend the invitation to the presiding officers of the national assembly.

Calm Returns To San Jose State As Recruiting Ends

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The president of San Jose State College, Dr. Robert D. Clark, debated over bullhorns with an antiwar militant on campus yesterday regarding presence of recruiter from a company that makes napalm used in Vietnam.

It was the second day of protest against recruiters for Dow Chemical Co. More than 150 riot-equipped stood by a block off campus.

While the crowd was small, it was enthusiastic. During Wallace's news conference, they crowded around reporters, cheering Wallace's answers to their questions.

Wallace questioned the constitutionality of the California provision requiring him to obtain the 66,059 voter registrations and of the Ohio law that forces him to get the signatures of some 450,000 registered voters. He said he didn't believe "you could constitutionally keep persons off the ballots of two states" if they were able to run in other states.

Wallace said he would decide in the first three months of 1968 whether to run for President. If he does, he said he has made no decision about a running mate.

Sausalito's Son Dies In Viet Zone

The 18-year-old paratrooper son of a Sausalito woman has been killed in heavy fighting around Dak To, South Vietnam, the Defense Department reported.

Killed was Army Pfc. Gregory L. Dunn of Santa Rosa, a son of Mrs. Lucille Laughlin of 297 Caledonia Street.

Dunn, who enlisted in the Army in February 1965, was killed Nov. 13. He was assigned to the 173rd Airborne Division.

Born in Tillamook, Ore., he moved to Santa Rosa in 1953, attending public schools there.

Survivors, besides his mother, are his wife, Mary Alice of Santa Rosa; his father, Edwin Dunn of Durant, Okla.; and a brother, Ronald Dunn of Sausalito.

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Friday at the Eggen and Lance Mortuary in Santa Rosa. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

Board Disagrees With Fairfax Plan On Schools

The Fairfax School District Board last night said it disagrees with a provision of the Fairfax Master Plan which states that no new school sites will be needed in Fairfax.

"The board expressed its reservations," said Supt. H. Reginald Hammond. "We don't want to commit ourselves that no new sites for schools will be needed."

In another action, the board authorized Hammond to investigate the costs of a landscaping plan for the new White Hill school and for other schools in the district.

He also will find out the cost of a new heating unit for the office at Manor School. The present one doesn't work.

Plea Date Scheduled Over Money Order

Leo Brunson, 29, of Vallejo, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge he passed a stolen money order at Milt's Things Unlimited and Pawnshop in Ignacio Sept. 24.

The money order, which Marin Sheriff's Office said was stolen from a Vallejo market, was cashed for $112.56, according to the complaint. Brunson is to enter a plea in Municipal Court Nov. 28.

Hub Trustees Ask Special Bond Report

San Anselmo School District trustees last night asked the citizens' committee for schools — which worked for a $950,000 bond issue defeated at the Oct. 10 polls — to study the merits of calling another such election.

Supt. Stephen L. Parodi said the board also is asking the committee, headed by Richard Kreuzer, to study a proposed 75-cent tax increase which failed at the polls.

A tentative meeting date of Dec. 5 was scheduled for the committee.

DEC. 19 REPORT

Parodi said the committee would then report its conclusions at the regular Dec. 19 board meeting.

The board also decided to inform the Marin County School Board Association that the method of nominating and electing replacements to the committee for school district organization each year is not satisfactory.

Parodi said normally the nominations and election take place quickly without school districts having opportunity to learn the qualifications and views of the candidates. He said San Anselmo trustees will ask opportunity to further explain their wishes to the committee.

TEACHER PLATFORM

A tentative teachers platform for the 1967-68 school year was informally discussed with the board, but no conclusions are expected until January and no action until February, said Parodi. Items on the platform include teachers' salaries, teaching matter, and personnel warrant.

Mount was held at the county jail in lieu of $480 bail.

Man Pleads Innocent To Forging Check

John E. Greison, 26, of 18 Crestwood Road, San Rafael, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge of forging a $150 check. Preliminary hearing was scheduled for Dec. 4.

Greison, serving a 90-day jail sentence for two instances of forgery, allegedly forged the check against the account of Mahoney Painting Co. of San Rafael.

Tree Climber Saves Adolph From Limbo

A mysterious stranger named Waggoner rescued Adolph, a cat, from three weeks of exile in Mrs. Peggy Richey's 120-foot redwood tree last night.

"I had a dozen calls from people offering advice after Adolph's picture appeared in the Independent-Journal last night," said Mrs. Richey, of 11 Hooper Lane, San Anselmo.

"But last night a man whose name sounded like Waggoner arrived. I don't know where he lives. His wife was with him and she held the flashlight on Adolph. It was amazing. He just climbed up the tree and got Adolph."

"We couldn't even see him going up the tree, but in a few minutes he was back down with Adolph."

Waggoner presented Mrs. Richey with Adolph and departed. "He wouldn't even come in the house to have a cup of coffee. His wife told me he works in an office, but she said he has been climbing trees since Adolph."

Judge Thomas F. Keating suspended imposition of sentence.

Mrs. Freeland, 48, of 16 Frances Street, took welfare assistance for three children from October, 1966, through February, but to report pay of about $1,850 from the San Francisco Post Office during the same period.

She received her post office checks under her former name, Mrs. Evelyn Lord.

A Superior Court Jury took just 40 minutes Oct. 17 to convict her of the chiseling.

he was four years old. He is from Canada."

Mrs. Richey said Adolph, a female cat, is skinny and was a little nervous, but ate some food and drank some milk.

Adolph crawled up the tree three weeks ago and apparently did not know how to come back down again.

The Humane Society told Mrs. Richey its ladder was too short to reach Adolph, and she was at her wit's end yesterday when the 14-year-old boy got Adolph up the tree.

Brian Duthie, 20, of 9 Sonoma Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital for concussion following the 7:15 a.m. robbery.

He told police he arrived at Tiny's Richfield Service Station at 390 Los Ranchitos Road to open the station and pumps when he saw a car parked nearby.

The occupant was a Negro, aged about 20 years, six feet, three inches tall and weighing about 200 pounds. He asked Duthie for transmission fluid.

The attendant was struck on the head from behind, he believed by the cast the man had on his right arm.

LaFrenz Arfsten of San Anselmo, station owner, said when he arrived at 7:40 a.m., he found Duthie unconscious in a back room. About $15 was missing from his pockets and $30 from the station cash box.

Illegal Surgery Hearing Set

Sausalito police booked John Francis Milos, former Sausalito, into Marin County Jail yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging him with criminal abortion.

Milos, sought for a year since the death of a Petaluma woman, was arrested Sunday by San Francisco police on a shoplifting charge.

Milos was jailed here in lieu of $28,075 bail and was to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Promoted

Three men from the headquarters of the Western Communications Region at Hamilton Air Force Base, were promoted to lieutenant colonel Monday: Robert L. Murdy of 269 Calle De La Selva, Novato; James D. Kelly of 132 Westover Circle, and William T. Gunderson of 43 Scott Circle, both of the base.

Short Take Off Planes Planned

sidered." He declined to say where the other locations were.

Stressing that the plans were still "very preliminary," Dickinson said the marshland site is owned by "many persons."

The 1,000-foot runway would be paved to a width of 50 feet, and would have 100-foot shoulders, he said. It would not be lighted for night operation.

Dickinson envisioned a regularly scheduled air taxi service from San Rafael to vacation areas and to San Francisco and Oakland international airports. STOL airplanes cost about one-third as much to operate as helicopters with the same passenger capacity, so fares would be "lower," he said.

The STOL airplanes have been in operation for about 10 years, primarily in Canada and Latin America in areas where landing facilities do not exist. About six manufacturers make STOL airplanes which carry six to 14 passengers, Dickinson said.

The airplanes do not look much different, but have retractable flaps on front edges of their wings which greatly increase the lifting capacity of the wings.

In winter, the planes would be equipped with retractable skis so they could land both here and on snow-covered fields in the

Sanitary Board Asks Delay On Sewage Proposal

Directors of Richardson Bay Sanitary District last night agreed to ask supervisors to delay action on the Brown and Caldwell sewage report on Marin County until the district completes its own studies.

Board members directed district engineer J. Warren Nutt to analyze the report by the San Francisco consultant engineering firm because they believe it contains discrepancies regarding the district, according to secretary Alfred O. Pratesi.

Improvement plans were approved by the board for the Paul McCart subdivision adjacent to Pine Terrace to include three homes.

Discussion of a landscaping project and other unfinished agenda items were postponed until an adjourned meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Trestle Glen treatment plant.

Wrong Address Listed In Accident Story

The Independent-Journal erred Monday in reporting the address of Patrick D. Gardner, an injured bicyclist, as 396 Montecello Way, Santa Venetia.

His address is 327 Hacienda Way, Santa Venetia. Patrick, 12, was hit by a car while pedaling his bicycle in Santa Venetia Thursday, and is in poor condition in Marin General Hospital with a head injury and a fractured right leg.

She had written it in phonetics on the subject, "The Anglicization of Hispanic Place Names in Colorado."

Sierras, he said. The trip takes about 40 minutes by air, and five to six hours by road, he noted.

Businessmen in the San Rafael area, Dickinson said, have told him they would use such an air taxi service to move executives and freight.

Dickinson said that he had a verbal commitment from Norman E. Hibbard, a STOL airplane dealer at Oakland International Airport, to provide the service.

With city approval of the plan, Dickinson said, "we could be ready to go in one week."

School Suspends Student, Suspect In Marijuana Use

A 16-year-old San Rafael High School student has been suspended after admitting he arrived at the school "high" on marijuana, police said today.

The boy told police he was approached by a youth, aged 18-20 years, while standing outside a San Rafael restaurant on his way to school. The youth gave him a "joint," although the boy said he couldn't pay for it.

Police Inspector Gerald R. Green said the boy reported he didn't know the youth or anyone at the school who could get him the drug. The boy felt, however, he could get it any time he wanted it outside the Courthouse in San Rafael.

Police said the boy was already on probation from Sonoma County and had been living a month in San Rafael with a sister. He was warned and released.

Innocent Plea In Forgery Case

Luige Aranda, 21, of San Francisco, who led a Sausalito merchant on a footrace Thursday, pleaded innocent to charge of forgery yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Preliminary hearing was set for 3 p.m. Friday.

Sausalito police said Aranda bought some clothes at Top Drawer Men's Store and tried to pay with a check stolen from the Ballard Company of San Francisco.

Marvin Stahl, owner of the store, and two officers chased and caught Aranda at Johnson and Caledonia streets.

strict boundaries, and the knowledge they would be back next week at the governor's summons to consider Medi-Cal financial problems.

Sixteen Senate Democrats and six Republicans joined yesterday morning to adopt the compromise bill redrawing the state's 38 congressional district boundaries. The State Supreme Court had said it would do the job if lawmakers didn't adopt a plan by Dec. 7.

However, Republicans in the Assembly jolted hopes for final passage by voting to oppose it as a bloc. When five Democrats also registered opposition, the bill was defeated on a 34-35 tally.

Publicly, Republicans said it mainly was a matter of their computers not producing the same data on population figures in the new districts as the Democrats' battery of electronic wizards. The GOP said it wanted staffs of the two parties to get together and come up with figures that agreed.

Privately, some Republicans who previously supported the reapportionment proposal said they will oppose it as long as Democrats continue to refuse quick action on a tax bill. Reagan requested rapid approval of the measure. The measure, Reagan said, is essential to correct a mistake in this year's tax increase bill that otherwise would cost up to $50 million in escaped tax revenues.

New Hot Reactor Is Surpassing Expectations

PEACHBOTTOM, Pa. (SS) — The high-temperature thorium atomic power reactor here has done better than expected since it went into commercial operation in June.

The experimental reactor, first of its kind to be used commercially in the U.S., operates at higher temperatures with less contamination and longer fuel life than had been expected.

The Peachbottom reactor uses a mixture of uranium 235 and thorium as fuel. The thorium, much more common than the scarce U-235, changes into uranium 233 when bombarded by neutrons. U-233 then fissions giving off heat.

The reactor also differs from conventional water-cooled power plants by taking off the fission heat with helium, which can be heated to higher temperatures than water.

Westmoreland Holds Major Victory Near

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland said today the bloody battle in Vietnam's central highlands is "the beginning of a great defeat for the enemy."

The general told reporters at the Pentagon that he had received within the hour a report from his deputy field commander, Gen. Creighton Abrams, saying the allied situation in the Dak To area is "in excellent hands" and that troop morale was very high.

Abrams' report was based on a tour of the battle area and talks with American and South Vietnamese commanders.

On the basis of the messages and a direct telephone conversation with Abrams this morning, Westmoreland told newsmen that in spite of some reports to the contrary, "at no time have U.S. or ARVN (South Vietnamese Army) troops been considered trapped, cut off or surrounded in the area of Dak To."

Westmoreland met with Pentagon reporters for a detailed war briefing lasting more than an hour and a half after several

Shoot Ladybird If She's Enemy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fred H. Brooks, Black Power advocate, testified today he would approve shooting Lady Bird Johnson "if she was my enemy."

Asked whether he would take aim at President Johnson, he said he would advocate that "as a last resort."

Brooks, 20, bushy-haired director of a poverty program school at Nashville, Tenn., charged with teaching Negro children to hate whites, told a Senate riots investigation:

"I believe the black people in this country should get their rights by whatever available means."

largest number of runaways. In 1963 it had 65, but this more than doubled to 133 the next year. It reached its peak in 1965 with 165 runaways. So for the first nine months of this year, it has had 97, according to Sgt. Louis E. Foster, juvenile officer.

Novato had 35 runaways reported to police in 1964 and 75 the next year. So far up to Sept. 30 of this year, it has had 19 cases.

Sausalito police reported only three runaways in 1963; it had a top of 17 last year, and nine so far for the first nine months this year.

Larkspur had two runaways in 1965; five in 1966, but 17 for the first nine months of this year.

Corte Madera on the other hand has run consistently from 19 to 20 runaways per year for the past four years with 22 reported for the first nine months of this year.

Mill Valley had six runaways in 1965; eight last year and 11 for the first nine months this year.

Ross had four in 1965; 10 in 1966, but only two so far this year.

San Anselmo had 31 runaways in 1964; 35 in 1965; 56 in 1966, and 46 for the first nine months of this year, according to Albert Howenstein, juvenile officer sergeant.

Fairfax had 14 runaways in 1964; 10 in 1965; 19 in 1966 and 15 for the first nine months of this year.

Belvedere has averaged two runaways for the past four years, but none have been reported this year.

The sheriff's office reported that in the unincorporated areas of the county it has 169 runaways in 1963; 325 in 1964; 213 in 1965; 293 in 1966 and 336 so far this year.

Teacher's Aides Help Classroom Efficiency

WASHINGTON (SS) — Teacher's aides take over so much classroom drudgery they allow the teacher to double her lesson preparation time, according to a five-year study in Michigan schools released by U.S. Office of Education.

The evaluation, done in 25 schools, reveals that aides cut the teacher's time on paper correction by 89 per cent, classroom monitoring by 83 per cent and help considerably on such things as discipline, attendance and preparation of various reports.

OBITUARIES

MRS. GALLAGHER

Former Mill Valley resident Mamie A. Gallagher, mother of Alfred W. Gallagher of Sausalito, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness. She was 84.

She lived for two years in Mill Valley until moving to the home of a daughter in San Francisco in 1963. Her husband, Alfred David Gallagher, was a rancher in the San Jose area who died in 1931.

She is survived by two daughters, Margaret Mason of Carmel and Geraldine Gallagher of San Francisco; and three sons, Robert M. Gallagher of Los Angeles, William M. Gallagher of Pleasant Hill and Alfred Gallagher.

Funeral was scheduled for 4 p.m. today at Halsted and Co., San Francisco. The family prefers contributions to the Heart Fund.

ROY UPTON

Funeral was held in San Francisco today for Roy Upton of 287 Golden Hind Passage, Corte Madera, who died in a local hospital Monday after a short illness. He was 84.

A bachelor, Hoffman leaves no immediate survivor. He was a member of the San Rafael Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, a one-time president of the aerie.

Born in San Francisco in 1878, Hoffman attended the one-room Dixie School, on the bank of Miller Creek beside Highway 101, in the 1880s.

He was a trustee of the district for half a century until his retirement in 1957. Two years before his retirement, a new school in the district was completed and named for Hoffman.

Pride, Wish For More School Spirit Characterize Leader

By THERON A. NEWELL

(Third in a series on student body presidents in Marin high schools.)

Pride in his school and a wish that it had more school spirit characterize Robert Bissig, president of Tomales High School student body for the fall semester.

Bissig had plenty of reason to be proud of his school. It had just won both the varsity and junior varsity football championships of the North Central League.

Both the varsity and junior varsity teams were undefeated in league play and Bissig, a husky young man of 17, played guard on the varsity team.

"I would like to get more activities for the students," Bissig said. He would like to see more school dances and parties.

"Traditionally we hold four dances in the school a year, but this year, we are going to have a minimum of five, the victory dance and each of the class dances," he said.

"I would like to see more participation of the students at the school functions," he added.

Last year the school started building school spirit by putting

ROBERT BISSIG
Asks more pride

one class against another during spirit week and rallies.

"It worked out so well then that we are continuing it this year," Bissig added.

Marijuana has not become a problem on the Tomales High campus that it has been elsewhere, he thought. "There were a few that experimented with it, but to my knowledge they have quit it," he said.

Students from as large an area as Tomales High draws on have different views on various subjects, he said.

"Right now the Vietnam war leads to the most heated arguments around the campus," he said. He said he did not know whether we should be in Vietnam, but now that we were involved, we should see the war through to the end.

"I can't see any way we can get out and save face," he added.

"I'm proud of Tomales High School, I could have gone to others, but I preferred to stay in this school," Bissig said.

He attended grade school in Coachella, Riverdale and West Marin as his father's work as a rancher took him to those areas. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alois Bissig now live near Olema. He has attended Tomales High for four years.

The Tomales High School District is building a new high school a mile east of the present school on the Tomales-Petaluma Road, and Bissig feels a kind of distinction in knowing that "we will be one of the last classes, than not the last class, to graduate from this old school."

Couple Asks
$500,000
For Defects

A Corte Madera couple yesterday sued a drug manufacturer and distributor and a medical group, asking $500,000 for a four-year-old son born with mental and physical defects.

Jerome and Frances Testo of 56 Crescent Road, Corte Madera, alleged in their Marin Superior Court suit that the boy's defects were caused by a drug, Marezine, taken by Mrs. Testo to combat morning sickness during her 1963 pregnancy.

The action names Burroughs Wellcome and Co Inc., of Burlingame, and Kaiser Foundation Hospital-Permanente Medical Group, plus five unidentified persons as defendants.

Because his mother took the drug while carrying him, David John Testo has a severely impaired mental capacity and little control over bodily movements, the suit claims.

The Testos said a Kaiser doctor told the expectant mother it was both safe and advisable to take the non-prescription drug to relieve her morning sickness.

Burroughs, the drug firm, knew or should have known that Marezine was a drug of such nature that, if not properly made, compounded, tested, inspected, packaged, labeled . . . for the use intended, that it was likely to injure an unborn child, the suit claimed.

The fact that it was "unsafe for morning sickness" was not disclosed to Mrs. Testo, the action said.

The suit requests $500,000 general damages for the boy and unspecified special damages to pay for his treatment in a school for the mentally retarded and to compensate him for loss of a lifetime income.

The audience gasped when he said his staff recommended communities get out from under "such link outfits" as the United Crusade and stand on their own feet financially.

But everyone went home happy. "I have the feeling I have seen a great man," said one of the audience on the way out.

$7 Billion In Extra Welfare
Benefits Wins

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate today approved a record $7 billion increase in Social Security and welfare benefits for 23.8 million inflation-pressed retired persons starting next spring.

The vote was 78 to 6.

The landmark bill now goes to a House-Senate conference committee for negotiations on a compromise measure.

The Senate version carried $4.8 billion more in benefits than voted by the House last summer.

13-HOUR DEBATE

Final details of the Senate bill were settled in a 13-hour yesterday session which ran until almost midnight.

A 15 per cent across-the-board increase in benefits would be provided by the Senate bill along with a raise in the minimum monthly payment from $44 to $70. The House voted a 12.5 per cent increase and a $50 minimum.

Bigger checks would start arriving in April.

Under the Senate bill, the payroll tax base would be increased from $6,600 to $8,000 in 1968, $8,000 in 1969, and $10,800 in 1972. The payroll tax rate would go from 4.4 to 4.8 per cent for employers and employees Jan. 1, 1969.

PAYROLL TAX

This would result in the maximum individual payroll tax going from $290.40 at present to $352 in 1968, $422.40 in 1969, and $561.60 in 1972.

With the increased benefits, total payments from trust funds in 1968 will exceed $30 billion, compared to $23 billion under present law.

The average monthly retirement benefit would increase from $145 to $171 for workers and their wives now on the benefit rolls. The new minimum payment would range from $70 to $163.30, compared to $42.42.

One of the most costly increases in benefits was added to the bill yesterday. It would raise the Social Security earnings test from $1,500 to $2,400 effective Jan. 1, and cost $900 million the first year.

Stolen Check Case
To Superior Court

Gilbert Schultz, 50, of San Francisco, was bound over to Marin Superior Court from municipal court yesterday to answer a charge of possessing and cashing stolen checks.

Novato police said Schultz passed a check stolen from Town-Tex Fabrics Co. of San Francisco on Aug. 18 at Lee Brothers market in Novato, obtaining $15 in groceries and $78 in change.

Burroughs, the drug firm, knew or should have known that Marezine was a drug of such nature that, if not properly made, compounded, tested, inspected, packaged, labeled . . . for the use intended, that it was likely to injure an unborn child, the suit claimed.

The fact that it was "unsafe for morning sickness" was not disclosed to Mrs. Testo, the action said.

The suit requests $500,000 general damages for the boy and unspecified special damages to pay for his treatment in a school for the mentally retarded and to compensate him for loss of a lifetime income.

DINING OUT

It Will Be Turkey,
And Something Else

By HARRY CRAFT

The number one choice on all restaurant menus tomorrow will be turkey — even as it will be at home.

Other top billing will be given to baked ham, roast or fried chicken, steak, lobster and in several cases the special dishes of other countries, according to the nationality and food preference of the restauranteur.

Roast duck also makes frequent appearances, and occasionally roast goose.

The usual custom of most dineries is to shorten holiday menus to four or five entrees found to be in most demand, though some will offer their full carte.

Traditionally mashed potatoes and gravy, sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, dressing and pumpkin or mince pies round out the fare but there will be numerous other viands to keep them company.

NATIVE FOODS

Original Thanksgiving festivities in 1621 included all the native foods of the day. Over the years the accepted list has expanded in several directions to suit the times and regional harvests.

Recently, to encourage more family dining out, some restaurants have been offering individual turkeys carved at the table for medium-sized groups, with all that is left over wrapped for later home consumption and "pickings."

If your favorite restaurant was open a year ago on Thanksgiving and had its dining room filled, the chances are that it will be again. Each year there is some variation among those deciding to remain open or closing for the holiday, but usually the two categories balance out about equally. This means you should have a choice of 50 or

Four Years Ago Today: Seed Of Ugly Violence

It was a rainy Monday in Marin four years ago today. (Rainfall in the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. Nov. 23 was 1.2 inches in San Rafael.) However, the temperature was mild (maximum 55, minimum 43).

Most of the news was comparatively mild, too, until mid-morning. There were disputes over civil rights, with the President's civil rights bill bogged down in Congress, and with a move under way to repeal California's Rumford Fair Housing Act. The AFL-CIO was feuding with the American Medical Association over the proposal for government-insured medical care for the aged. A tax reduction bill, also sponsored by the President, was being debated.

THERE WAS NOT much news from Southeast Asia, where the fighting had ended in Laos but was continuing in South Vietnam. Ngo Dinh Diem, South Vietnam's elected president, had been assassinated just three weeks earlier, and several military cliques were still contending for control. The U.S. had not recalled its 16,500 military "observers" and "advisers," but the President had indicated he hoped to do so.

The President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, was in Dallas, Tex.—"Goldwater country"—on a speech-making tour.

AT ABOUT 10:25 a.m., Associated Press and United Press International teletypes in the Independent-Journal office chattered with a bulletin: Three shots had been fired at the President's motorcade.

Almost immediately, phones began to ring. People had heard a radio news-caster say the President had been shot. Was it true?

The bulletins followed pell-mell. Three shots had been fired. One or more had hit the President.

Not until noon was the death of the 35th President of the United States confirmed. Only then did the doctors who had made a forlorn-hope effort to save his life concede defeat.

THAT WAS FOUR YEARS ago. Dispute still rages over whether Lee Harvey Oswald, who was charged with the murder and was murdered in his turn, acted alone in shooting President Kennedy or as part of a conspiracy—and whether he fired all three (or four) shots.

John F. Kennedy served two years, 10 months and two days as President.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Action Urged On Racing Board

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, has gone a step farther in his hassle with the California Horse Racing Board, which he recently accused of bad faith in granting additional racing days to the Tanforan Racing Association for races at the Bay Meadows track, rather than to the new California Fair and Exposition.

Monagan now asks for an immediate investigation "to determine the propriety" of the board's decision, which he says endangers the very existence of the new fair and exposition.

Recently, Monagan introduced a resolution in the Assembly asking that all work be halted on the new fair until reappraisal of the financial situation is completed.

His LATEST REQUEST in a letter to the Assembly Rules Committee, is to order the investigation and subpoena horse racing board members to give sworn testimony before the investigating body. He wrote:

"Allegations ranging from personality conflicts to conflicting interests have been circulated in the wake of the board's ill-advised and highly detrimental action."

"We assumed the board would be responsible enough to reserve additional racing days for the new exposition, but our confidence was misplaced."

"It was the intent of the Legislature that the $32 million investment in the new fair and exposition would be protected."

"But the decision of the board is blatantly contrary to the public interest and the intent of the Legislature. In the minds of many, it has raised serious doubts as to the motivation and good faith of the board members."

"I believe it would be the best interests of the public, and all persons involved, to commence an impartial inquiry without delay."

When the Legislature adopted a measure during the 1967 session to increase racing days, it did so with the intent of making the additional days, or at least some of them, available to the new fair and exposition, the assemblyman pointed out.

SUGGESTIONS have been put forward that the governor might exercise authority granted to him under a 1967 law, and arbitrarily increase the membership on the horse racing board from three to five, appoint two new members, and thus have a majority. At present, only one member of the three member board is a Reagan appointee.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Psychiatrist Not

Drug Use Advocate

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mrs. Betty Griffith's letter to the editor, published November 17, brings one who never writes letters to the editor to write one. Mrs. Griffith mistakenly believes that Prof. (Patrick S.) Gleason and Dr. (William M.) Lamers were advocating drug use. Unfortunately I do not know Professor Gleason, but I am quite well acquainted with the work of Doctor Lamers, and therefore feel obligated to point out that:

1. He is very concerned about the dangers of drug usage;

2. Has tried to learn as much as possible about it;

3. Is vitally interested in teen-agers, whom he wholeheartedly likes and genuinely believes in;

4. Thinks we owe it to them to give them all the information we can obtain;

5. Believes it is essential to be honest with them always; and

6. Is convinced that they will be able to make wisely the decisions which can never be made for them, but have to be made ultimately by them.

Toward this goal he has put great effort.

But Lights Go Out

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This is my third winter in the county, and I am amused that with the coming of the first storm each year, all the lights have failed during the night. Ah well, although we can shoot rockets to the moon and Venus, we still have to learn to contend with Mother Nature at home and keep those lights burning at the first sign of rain! To conclude, my compliments to the PG&E crew who have to go out in the pitch black wet and windy night to fix those darn wires.

Ample Information On Library Question

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am sure Beth Reilly did not realize in her letter to the editor published on Nov. 16 that the I-J had informed us on July 26, Aug. 4, 10, 16, 17, 31, Sept. 4, 27, and Nov. 6, 1967 regarding the proposed library for Larkspur-Corte Madera, not to mention other dates.

I am sure she misunderstood the purpose of the Corte Madera Town Council meeting with item 10, library study . . .

This was not the joint library study meeting where it is expected that both sides are heard, but Mr. (Ronald L.) Usher's memo of Oct. 7 giving Corte Madera reaction to Corte Madera Council . . .

I hope she does not continue to live in delusion of the obvious reality that Corte Madera voices were overwhelmingly in favor of retaining the Marin County branch library in Corte Madera, after a very detailed report was given by our town manager to the service clubs and home owners associations

Since Larkspur needs the additional space and cannot finance the new library alone, (it should) either join the county system or keep its present system. Two county branches should not be eliminated for the benefit of one.

The schooling facility for these autistic children, like Billie, stands a good chance of closing this summer. It is also likely that Napa will be losing $100,000 federal funds if it can no longer fit the personnel and program requirements because of the cutbacks. The out-patient treatment program has been terminated as has the psychiatric technician training program.

The availability of treatment people or rehabilitative services are at a new low and so when I was assigned three children from a list of children who needed and could benefit from treatment, I asked about Billie. In essence I was told that Billie was too sick—not incurable but there were not enough people with enough time. We are then saying that we have already shut the door on Billie, age 10, along with many other Billies, some even younger. Since the brutal fact is then that some of these children are destined to live out their lives in our institutions because of lack of treatment, it is difficult to look into Billie's troubled eyes, believing that we could not offer him more.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ELIZABETH VON KAHL

Dogs, Like Some People, Fear Boots And Gun Of Policeman

That policemen have a definite image to dogs was proved recently in Tiburon by a boxer pup and Deputy Sheriff Victor Carrara.

From our office window, I saw the deputy whistling and calling to a handsome young boxer pup in the parking lot by the sheriff's sub-station.

The pup turned and meditated, with one ear pointing in Vietnam.

Deputy Carrara is a good-sized officer, the six-foot variety. As he stepped out firmly in police boots with gun prominently holstered on his hip, the dark-faced pup ran in the other direction.

As I left the building a minute later and started across the alley, the dog was heading back in my direction. "Here, pooh," I called, kneeling down, and he immediately ran to this medium-sized, reporter-type woman, minus boots and gun.

"Thank you," said the deputy with his big, friendly grin as I held the dog until he arrived. "He's lost and his owner is coming for him in five minutes. I can't figure out why he wouldn't come back to me. Dogs usually like me."

I suggested that the image of the boots, gun and uniform may have been unappealing to the dog, as it has been known to make some people nervous.

That cheered the deputy a little. He rescued two other lost dogs that day and returned them to their owners — one of those things policemen don't get paid extra for, or sometimes even thanked for.

COMMENTS ARE STILL making the rounds about President Johnson being asked about Vietnam during a Sunday church sermon in Bruton (Episcopal) Parish in Williamsburg, Va.

I was interested to hear this week one made by Rev. Llewellyn A. White, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere, to his parish.

WASHINGTON — My good friend, Kronig, was a picture of despair.

"What's the matter, Kronig?" I wanted to know.

"I can't help it," he said. "Every time I open my mouth I give aid and comfort to the enemy."

"But how?" I demanded.

"I don't agree with President Johnson's policies in Vietnam. And he said that every time we say we don't agree with him, Hanoi is encouraged and wants to continue the war."

"THAT'S TRUE, KRONIG," I said. "The President knows from whence he speaks. North Vietnam would probably be at the negotiating table right now if people like you didn't oppose President Johnson's policies."

"But that's just the point," Kronig cried. "I haven't opened my trap for six months and we're not anywhere nearer resolving the problem than we were before."

"You mean you haven't been loudly and openly opposing President Johnson on Vietnam for six months?"

"That's right," Kronig said. "Six months ago I made a decision. I decided that according to Dean Rusk and Hubert Humphrey and President Johnson the only reason Hanoi would not cave in was

New Battalion For Nike Sites

A new Army Signal Corps battalion to oversee communications linking all Nike Hercules missile batteries on the West Coast has been created by the Army and will have its headquarters at Fort Baker.

The battalion of the Sixth Region Army Air Defense Command also will be in charge of communications between the regional command at the fort and Army Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Lt. Col. Robert J. Emerson of Novato will head the new unit.

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1967 with 39 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1852, the second French Republic received public recognition in France when more than seven million persons voted to back the regime of Emperor Napoleon III.

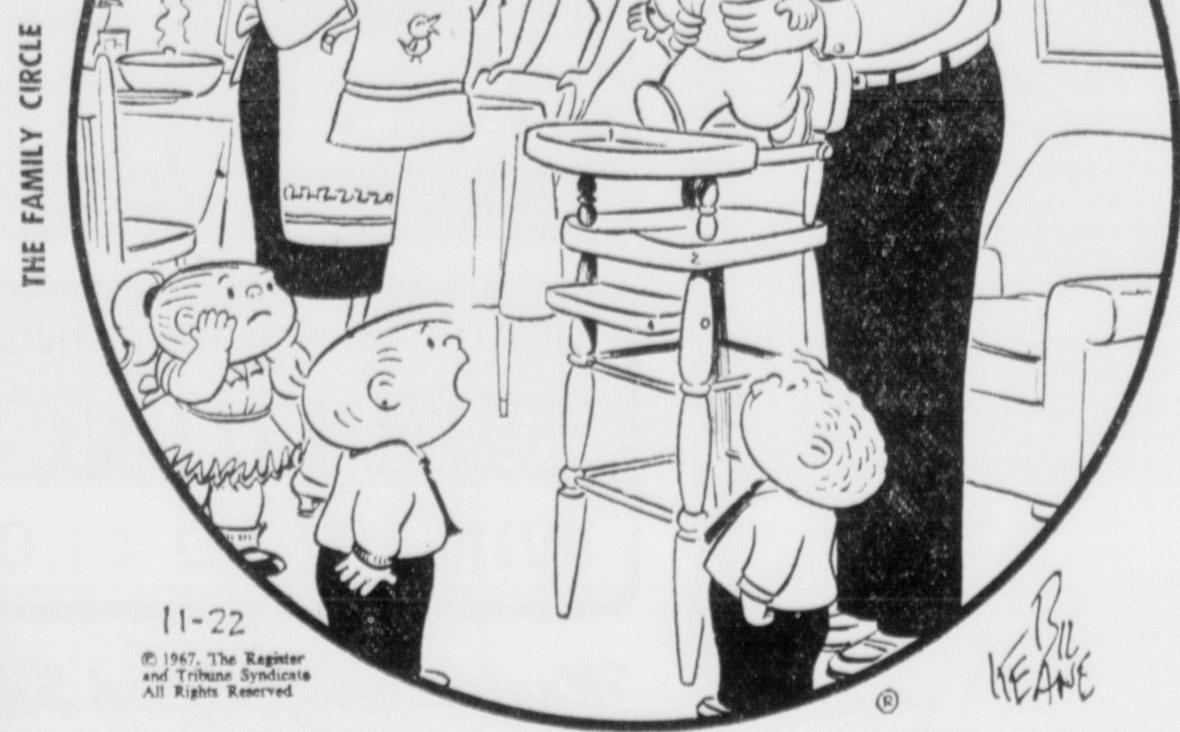

In 1950, a train wreck at the peak of the evening commuter hours just outside New York killed 79 persons.

In 1960, the U.S. Navy launched the "Ethan Allen," its then most powerful atomic submarine.

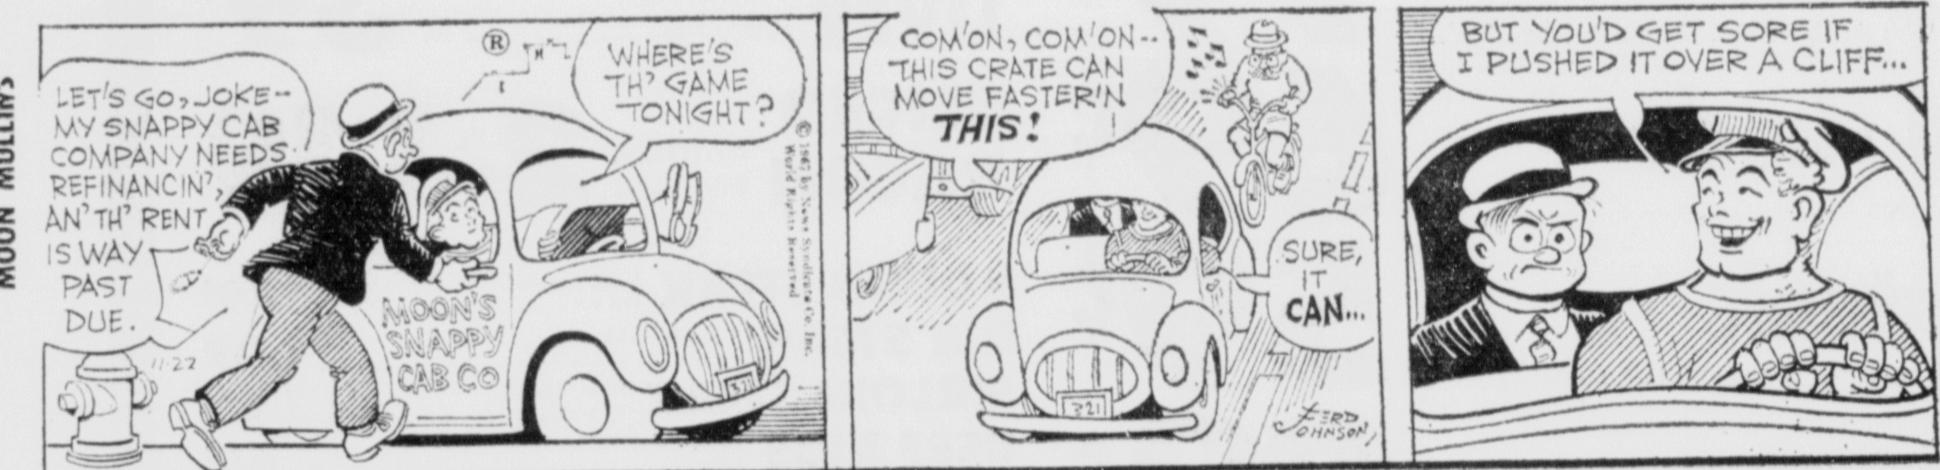

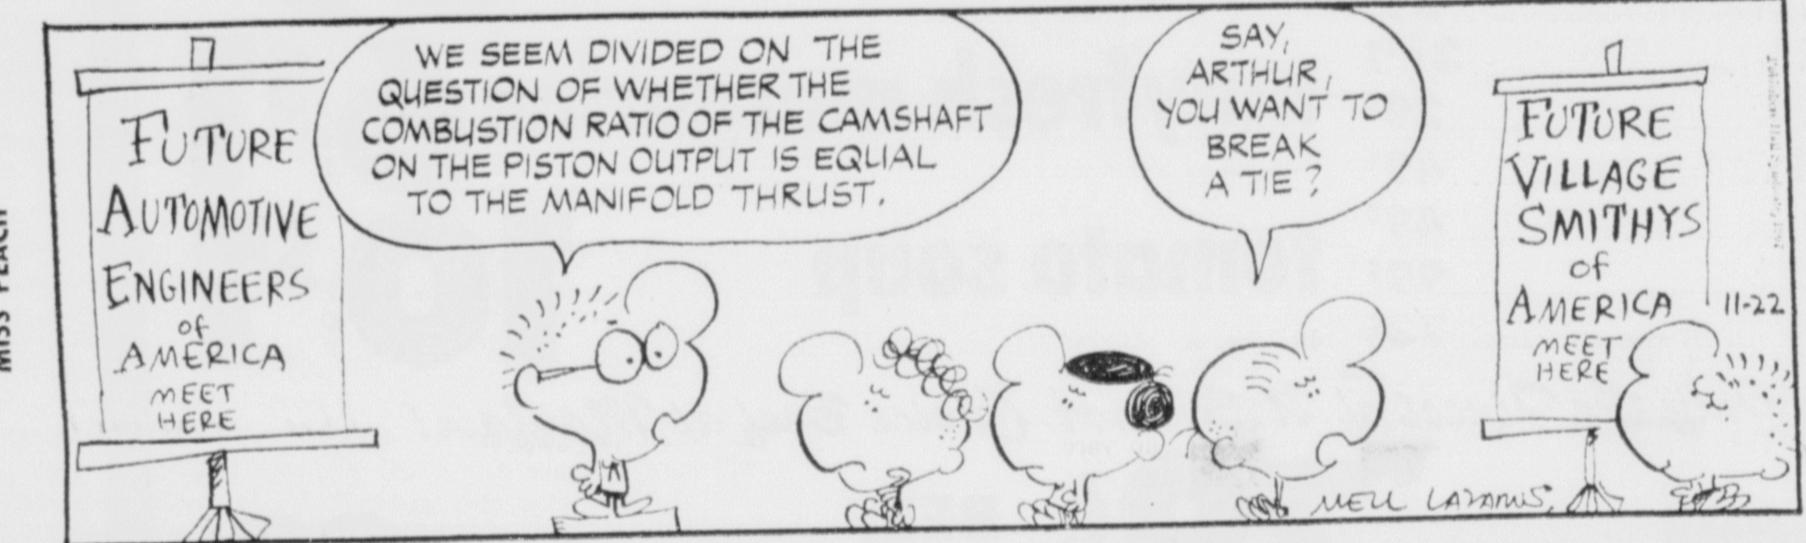

In 1963, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas and a few hours later vice president Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as chief executive. Lee Harvey Oswald, charged with the shooting, was fatally shot two days later by Jack Ruby.

A thought for the day—U.S. Army Gen. William Sherman once said, "I am tired and sick of war. Its glory is all moonshine. It's only those who neither fired a shot nor heard the shrieks and groans of the wounded who cry aloud for blood more vengeance, more desolation."

If he has a "bad" 16-point hand and decides to pass at two notrump, you should not shed tears. You would jump to 3 notrump if some of your strength were in your 5-card diamond suit.

If you forget this, you have only yourself to blame.

SEEKS MIRACLE

West opened and continued clubs. South ruffed the third club, drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the top hearts and led out the ace and a low diamond, hoping for some sort of small miracle.

It was a bad day for miracles. East took two diamond tricks, defeating the contract, and South grumbled about his hard luck.

"I'd have made it," he moaned, "If there'd been a doubleton king or doubleton queen-jack of diamonds."

South was hoping that an opponent would win the second round of diamonds and would then have no other diamond to lead. A club or a heart return would allow dummy to ruff while South got rid of last diamond.

WOULD NOT MAKE

South would not have made his contract even if the five missing diamonds had broken 3-2. The hand would have been a misdeal. The diamonds could break 3-2 only if West had been dealt 14 or 15 cards.

West's bidding showed five hearts and five clubs. West also followed to two rounds of trumps. There was therefore room for only one diamond in his hand.

DIAMOND LEAD

After drawing two rounds of trumps and cashing dummy's hearts, declarer should lead a diamond from dummy and play low from his hand, allowing West to win with his singleton.

West would have to return a club or a heart, allowing dummy to ruff while South discarded the ten of diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one no trump, and the next player passes.

Some scientists envision Venus as a world where life is just beginning. The Venusian atmosphere, having more carbon and less free oxygen than that on earth, resembles the air the earth is known to have had long ago.

Raiders Limp Into Turkey Day Game With Chiefs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oakland limps into Kansas City tomorrow for a key American Football League game. And limp is the perfect word for the Raiders' condition.

Oakland, hanging on to a tenuous one-half game lead in the AFL's Western Division, will have to go the rest of the way without ace running back Clem Daniels, who broke his ankle in last Sunday's 31-17 victory over Miami.

Daniels, who became the AFL's first 5,000-yard career rusher earlier this season, is the league's fourth leading ground gainer with 575 yards.

His was the most serious of three ankle injuries the Raiders suffered against the Dolphins. Linebacker Bill Laskey and running back Estes Banks were also hurt and are considered doubtful for the game against the Chiefs.

In other professional football action on Thanksgiving Day, Denver plays at San Diego in the American League while Los Angeles is at Detroit and St. Louis at Dallas in the National League.

On Sunday, Boston plays at Houston and Buffalo visits Miami in the AFL. In the NFL Sunday, Philadelphia is at New York, Cleveland hosts Washington, Minnesota goes to Pittsburgh, New Orleans entertains Atlanta, Green Bay is at Chicago and Baltimore travels to San Francisco.

The Raiders plan to use Pete Banaszak, who has carried the ball just nine times in two seasons, to replace Daniels.

Banaszak gained 25 yards in two attempts after Daniels was hurt against the Dolphins.

Curt Merz, nursing a sore back, and Willie Mitchell, with a dislocated thumb, are doubtful for the Chiefs, 6-4, who must win if they hope to return to the Super Bowl.

The Raiders, 8-1, have won five straight but have been unable to shake San Diego, 7-1.

The Chargers nipped the Chiefs 17-16 last week, with two magnificent goal line stands turning the tide.

John Had, San Diego's quarterback, had his first sub-200 yard day this season against the Chargers but Dick Post made up for the passing slack by gaining 108 yards rushing.

Denver, 2-9, ended a nine-game losing streak with a 21-20 victory over Buffalo last week. Al Denson led the attack by catching seven passes for 102 yards.

against the Rams' strong front four. The Lions are 3-2.

Dallas, 7-3, holds a two-game edge in the NFL's Coastal Division but was whopped by Washington 27-20 last Sunday. Craig Morton led a late rally that fell short, hurling two touchdown passes after taking over for Don Meredith in the fourth period.

St. Louis, 5-4-1, dropped one-half game back of Cleveland in the Century Division by losing to Chicago 30-3. Jim Hart had five of his passes intercepted by the Bears.

That Peerless-Picking Alvarado Does It Again

PEERLESS PICKER — Well, it's all over but the pouting.

The 1967 1-J Sports Writers' Fearless, Peerless Pigskin Prognostications Derby ended last weekend and once again Mr. Robert Alvarado reigns supreme.

Alvarado correctly picked 10 out of 12 games on the final week to pull away from the opposition. His final season record of 92 right, 26 wrong gave him a soft five-game cushion over the nearest rivals.

Bob Disnore, who tied Alvarado for the title last year, and Gary Tischler tied for runner-up spot with 97-31 records. Dinsmore, an also-ran much of the year, made a gallant finish, but ran out of time.

Little old line maker me finished fourth with 84-34 (I demand a recount), followed by Ralph Chatoian with 82-36. Kimo Campbell, the rookie on the staff, was last with 77-41.

In fact, Kimo was the only staffer who finished behind Claude Consensus who had 81-25.

Studies Football With A Passion

Alvarado is one of those All-American Crystal Ballers who eats Wheaties for breakfast, all his vegetables at dinner, does mental calisthenics every morning and studies football with a passion. His greatest prediction of the season was printed last Friday when he picked USC 21, UCLA 20. Also, he was the only staffer to pick Hartnell over Monterey in that big junior college game. He's a smartie, that Alvarado.

By the way: Alvarado is our statistician. It figures.

TAR TRIP — Marin's Tars will leave for Salinas Friday morning for their Saturday night Northern California football playoff game with Hartnell. The Tars will practice at Salinas High sometime Friday and stay the evening at an undisclosed motel. "We don't want to tell anyone where we're staying," said Director of Athletics Harry Pieper, "because we don't want any partying guests on the eve of the big game."

Some Interesting Statistics

The Tars probably will return to Marin on Sunday.

Incidentally, Marin's team has joined an elite corps by winning a bid to the state playoffs. Of 78 football-playing junior colleges in the state, only 8 have qualified for the tourney.

Further incidental: California has the largest junior college program in the country. Compared to this state's 78 football J.C.'s, there are only 85 in the rest of the nation.

And still another statistical tid-bit to toss around at the next dull cocktail party: California has 770 high schools playing football, ranking third in the nation behind Pennsylvania and Texas.

A-MAYS-ING: Santa Rosa Coach Marv Mays, no relation to Willie, silly, had nothing but praise for the Tars after they spanked his Bear Clubs 23-0 last Friday night.

DeMasi's Best Game Of Season

Some of Mays' quotes: "They (the Tars) give every indication of being a champion... They went undefeated and scored quite a few touchdowns... They didn't lack an offense, and they were up for the game... (end) Honor Jackson made key pass receptions against us and (fullback) Joe DeMasi, a powerful 235-pounder, ran for 69 yards on 12 carries... This is the first time their big fullback did something for them... at least in our scouting reports. I think it was his best game of the season... We thought our offense moved the ball, but on key situations — third and fourth downs — we didn't get the first down."

VETERAN — Among the interested spectators at Santa Rosa, watching the Tars clinch the school's first undisputed football championship since 1941, was Dr. Harry Hensler of San Anselmo. He was Marin's team physician in — 1941.

Spartans Prep For Final Game

SAN JOSE (AP) — Left guard Don Rose is out with a bronchial ailment as the San Jose State Spartans continue preparations for their season-closing game Saturday with Brigham Young University.

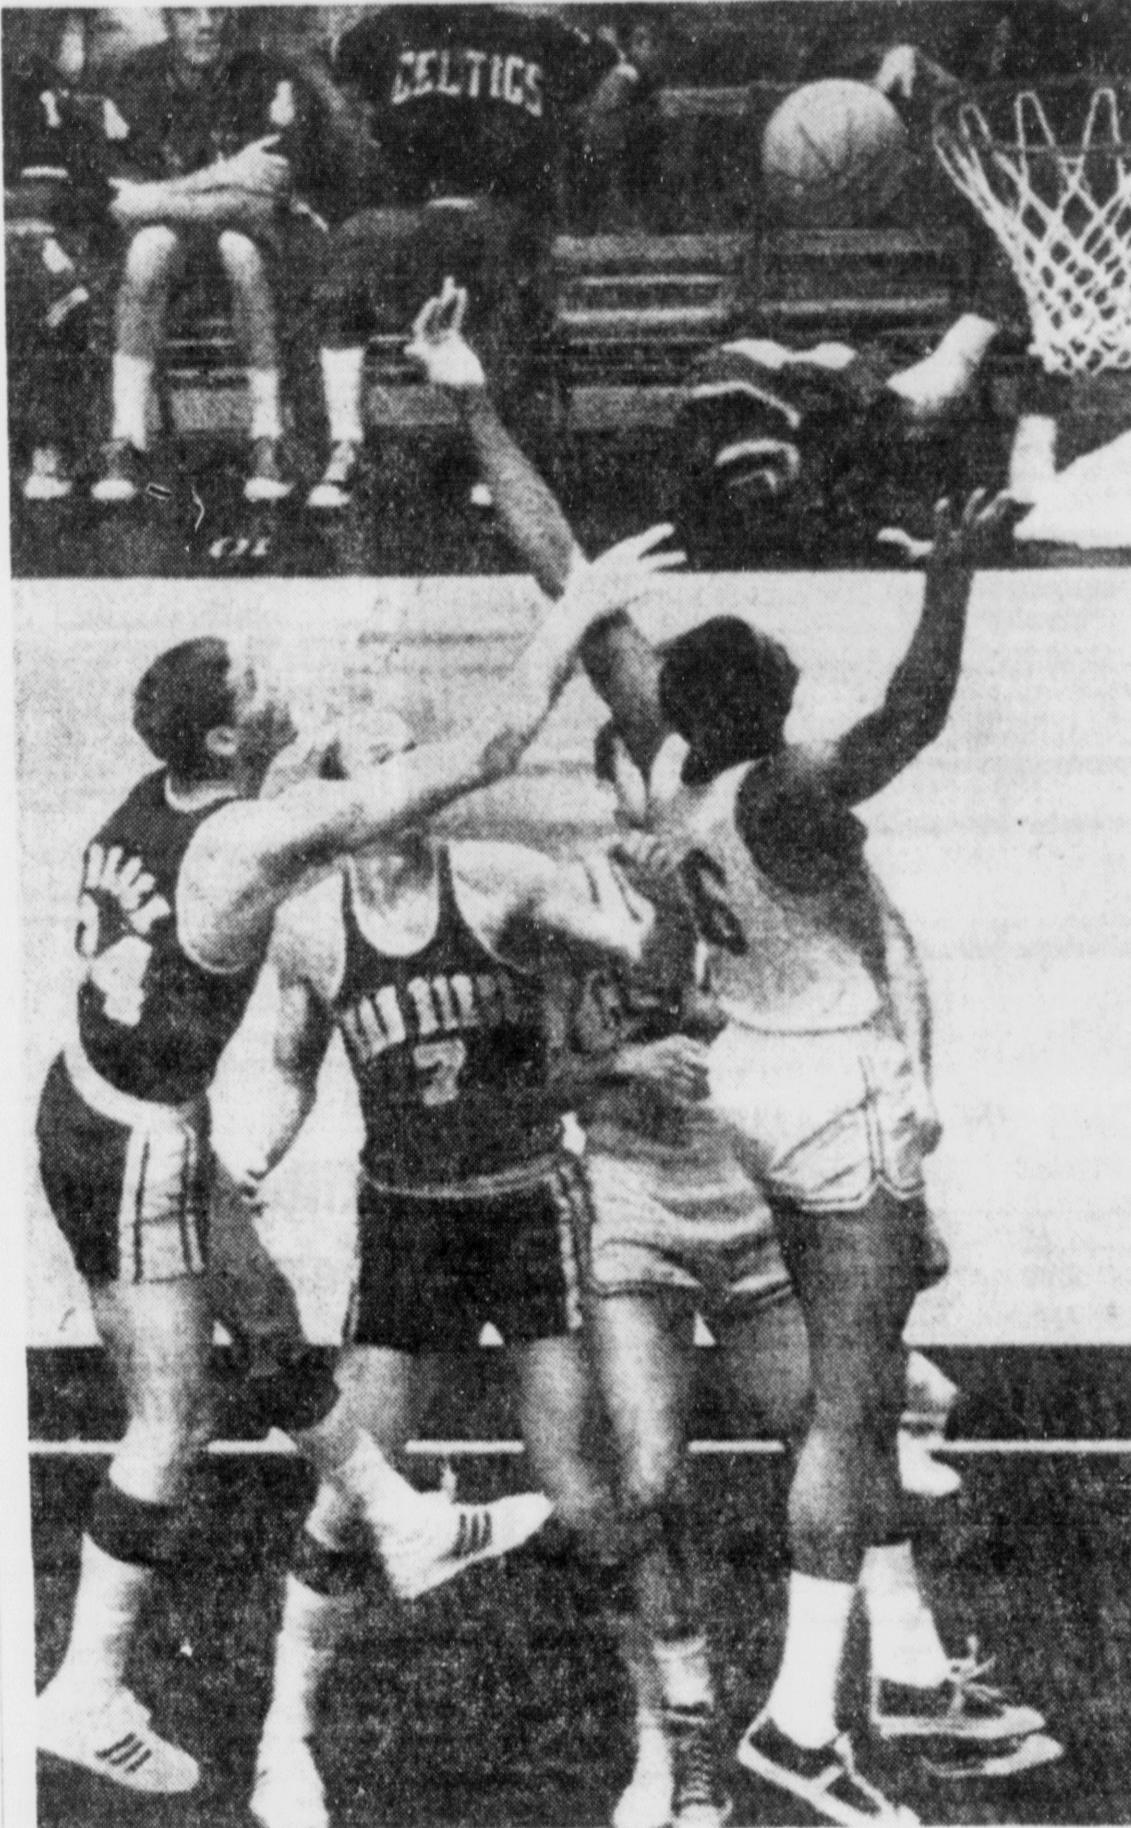

Fullback Clarence Kelley and defensive end Don Jackson returned to the lineup after being benched for not going to the Fresno State game.

Offensive and defensive teams scrimmage separately yesterday.

A Boycott Of Olympics Is 'Possible'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A possible boycott of the 1968 Olympic Games by U.S. Negro athletes is expected to be discussed at a workshop beginning tomorrow in a Los Angeles church.

"I feel very strongly that we are going to pull it off," Prof. Harry Edwards said at San Jose State and it would involve track stars Tommie Smith and Lee Evans.

Smith, holder of many sprint world records, and Evans, one of the world's top quarter milers, indicated they would come to the meeting but it was not known whether or not they would support the boycott.

RECORD HOLDER

Edwards, 24, who holds the San Jose State discus record, said yesterday the Los Angeles meeting would be "one of many workshops," and he noted that Negro athletes "dominate the prestige track events — the sprints and relays."

If the boycott comes off, Edwards said it would not be done to "destroy the United States in the Olympics."

"We are trying to bring to everyone's attention that the United States is as racist as South Africa ever was," he said.

Edwards declined to say which athletes, amateur or professional, would attend the meeting. But he said he hadn't contacted many of the athletes, that they contacted him.

"We've been talking about it since 1960," Edwards said of the boycott.

Smith, who strongly denied he started the boycott movement, said last Nov. 8 in a speech in Lemoore, Calif., that he would "give his right arm to win a gold medal at the next Olympics" in Mexico City.

Redwood Runners Win Frosh-Soph Sectional Title

Redwood swept to the frosh-soph division title of the North Coast Section Meet, the final step on the cross-country trail, at Dan Foley Park in Vallejo yesterday.

Redwood had 62 points to 72 for runnerup Pleasant Hill. Far back in the back were two other Marin County entrants, Tamalpais and San Rafael, which finished 12th and 13th, respectively.

Redwood's Wayne Horiuchi topped all runners, finishing first in 10:28 over the two-mile course. Teammates Kevin Pusser, Tim Taylor, Jerry Adams and Dick Stoltz finished second, fourth, 14th and 41st.

Marin county varsity teams did not fare so well. Novato was tops with a 10-place finish. Top Marin runner was Don Makella in 11th place. Mission San Jose won the varsity team title.

Marin, Hartnell Show Contrast Of Grid Styles

By KIMO CAMPBELL

Saturday night's Northern California junior college (small schools) playoff between Marin and Hartnell at Salinas High School shapes up as one of the biggest contrasts of style since Marin edged Goliath.

Hartnell presents an image of steady, relentless pounding at the line—which seems dull right up to the moment that a swift Panther back bulls through a gaping hole and sprints 60 yards. Which happens regularly enough to keep the opposing secondary awake.

Marin has less pound-it-out consistency, partly due to lack of size and a thin line — the Tars began the year with just 12 linemen — but they can make the big play when they have to. On runs — 87, 80, 76, 73, 71, 56 yards — or passes — 58, 50, 53, 72 yards, etc. The Mariners will be stopped for a series or two, and then break out for big yardage on a few plays.

This is not to say that Marin can't make a long, dull, "three yards and a cloud of dust" drive, or that Hartnell can't make the big play. But the basic styles are there. Hartnell will go 60 yards in 12 plays, eating up yards and time. Marin can go 60 yards on one play—and often does.

Some comments on the matchups:

Marin Offense vs. Hartnell Defense: Marin's strength is in its balance. The Tars have a multiplicity of weapons. If Honor Jackson is covered by one defender, he'll get free eventually. Most teams prefer to double-team him, which leaves them vulnerable to short passes to the backs, over-the-middle tosses to the other end. Bill Kilcoyne, or to the Tars' "bread and butter" play — a power play off tackle, usually with Tim Harr carrying.

Harr has good power, plus the ability to slide off tackles, take and go on to bleed yardage when he seems to be contained. Dean Lazzarini at the other half, hampered by an instep injury, is more a speed runner — a 9.6 man in the 100-yard dash in high school, he can go a long way if the defense is foolish enough to give him an alley. The Tars' offensive line will have to contend with a strong Hartnell front four, which ranges up to 270 pounds as the opponent nears the Panthers' goal line.

The defensive backs are no better than average — so the question is, will the line be able to hold the Hartnell rush long enough for Bill Ingram to hit Jackson, Kilcoyne, et al. The line has usually done a good job when it had to — as in the Shasta game. Another come-through effort will help tremendously Saturday night. Overall.

4 For Nate, But Warriors Whip Pistons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Detroit Pistons stopped Nate Thurmond, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, without a field goal last night but were drubbed by the San Francisco Warriors 124-98.

The Pistons were woefully cold in their own shooting, hitting only 27 per cent of their shots in the first half. Dave Bing, their leading scorer, was sidelined with an injured hand suffered Monday night against Seattle.

With Detroit concentrating defense on Thurmond, Fred Hetzel produced the Warrior scoring muscle with 23 points. Rudy LaRussa hit 18.

Thurmond escaped a scoring shutout by sinking four of five free throws.

Marin should be able to gain on the Panthers, particularly on a dry field.

Hartnell Offense vs Marin Defense: The fact that Hartnell doesn't throw much (they seldom have to) negates one of the Marin defenses' strongest points — its ability to make interceptions. The line has improved as the season has gone along, and will have to make a supreme effort to hold down the power running of Dick Smith, Rocky Thompson & Co. The strongest performers in the Tar defense are Bill Hickerson and Jim Srisp, the best two linebackers in the GVC. Both are big (6-1, 230) and agile.

If they play as well as they have and the line comes through, the Panthers may be shut off — but Marin hasn't faced backs like Thompson and Smith this year. Coach Dick Read calls Thompson "as fine a back as we've seen in J.C. ball," and Smith is not a whole lot worse. But they can be held down, and if the Tars can play tough goal-line defense and shut off the breakaways and hold the Panthers close enough for the offense to do the job. And if they can force Hartnell to put the ball in the air — then Joe Cunningham.

The Terra Linda Junior Trojans, Marin County Pop Warner football champions will go to Hawaii Dec. 3 for Pop Warner grid game.

"We made it," Mrs. Ellen Casey treasurer for the Junior Trojans said. "I don't know as yet how much we have exactly, but we are over the $8,000 mark."

The $8,000 was the minimum figure needed to send the 48-member team and three coaches to Hawaii.

Money in the form of donations is still coming in, according to Mrs. Casey. This augments funds already raised through sales of raffle tickets, other donations and a rummage sale.

U.S. Will Have Sexiest Skiers

By WILL GRIMSLY

NEW YORK (AP) — America's skiers may not be the flashiest or fastest but they'll certainly be the sexiest on Europe's Alpine slopes this winter.

"We're going to look like a bunch of Venusians," said Suzy Chaffee of Rutland, Vt., the best and most glamorous of Uncle Sam's downhill nieces.

Venusians?

FROM VENUS

"Oh, you know what I mean, we're going to look like Venus—that is, the girls are," Suzy added. "We're going to wear metallic silver uniforms that look like they were painted on us."

"They'll not only have less wind resistance. They'll give us a big psychological lift and probably psych our opponents."

Miss Chaffee, 21, is the pin-up-girls of the U.S. Olympics Alpine skiing team of ten men and seven women who were flying today to St. Moritz, Switzerland, to begin more than two months of conditioning for the Winter Olympic Games at Grenoble, France, Feb. 6-18.

DROUGHT

The United States hasn't had a women's Olympic gold medalist since Andrea Mead Lawrence in 1952 but has high hopes for Suzy, who has been toughening herself in Europe while attending the University of Innsbruck in Austria.

— She was America's top down-hill finisher last year and also placed high in competitions in Grindelwald, Switzerland, and St. Gervais, France.

Miss Chaffee strikes a dazzling figure whether she's wearing the form-fitting silver suit of competition or the gray-checked mini skirts provided by the Olympic Committee for casual wear.

She is 5-8, 138 pounds and blonde. She was voted national semifinalist in a co-ed beauty contest sponsored by a glamor magazine. She attended Denver University and the University of Washington before shifting to Innsbruck.

CULTURES

"I want to go to a lot of colleges before I'm through," she said. "I want to enjoy differing cultures and people."

Suzy is ecstatic over the Olympic racing uniform, designed by one of her favorite people, Doug Burden of Aspen, Colo., a one-time international skier himself.

"You know the least little thing—even a price tag—can slow you down in Alpine racing where a hundredth of a second decides the winner," she said. "These metallic things make you feel as if you have nothing on."

"Psychologically, it's great. And it works psychologically on your opponents, too. I think. They look at us and think we're something from the moon."

Daugherty Says Keyes Is Nation's Top Back

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI)—They'll be giving out the Heisman Trophy soon to the fellow who's supposed to be the best college football player in the country.

From what I hear, O. J. Simpson and Gary Beban are running 1-2. They look like they're closer than Taylor and Burton.

"In the games I've seen, O. J. Simpson primarily is a runner. And he's a fine runner, no question about that. But Leroy Keyes runs just as well as Simpson and last Saturday against Michigan State Leroy had a better average than O. J. "Leroy carried 24 times and had a net of 193 yards. O. J. carried 28 times for 182 yards. In addition, Leroy threw a touchdown pass for 11 yards, caught another touchdown pass for 11 more yards and gained 51 yards receiving other passes. Not only that, but he kicks off for us and plays defense."

This not only tends to make it a private fight between Prothro and McKay but it also tends to irritate Jack Mollenkopf.

Mollenkopf coaches Purdue and has his own Heisman Trophy candidate in Leroy Keyes, a converted defensive halfback who is setting all kinds of Big Ten records on offense and still plays defense on occasion also.

PICKS KEYES

The quickest way to rile Mollenkopf is to assure him someone other than his boy, say O. J. Simpson, for example, already has the trophy wrapped up.

"In my opinion, man for man, Leroy Keyes is a better all-around football player than O. J. Simpson," Mollenkopf insists.

Continental Grid Season Near End

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seattle, still with a possibility of finishing second in the Continental Football League's Western Division, plays champion Orange County at Anaheim tomorrow night as the season nears its end.

San Jose, now second, plays at Sacramento Saturday night. The finale will be played by Seattle at Victoria Dec. 2.

Seattle must win both games and San Jose lose its one for the Rangers to finish second. Seattle is 6-5; San Jose 7-4. Champion Orange County will meet the Eastern winner, Norfolk or Orlando, Dec. 10.

Georgia Bulldogs Accept Invitation To Liberty Bowl

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

ATHENS — The Georgia Bulldogs have accepted a bid to play in the Liberty Bowl Dec. 16 at Memphis, Tenn. — setting up their third postseason trip in four years under Coach Vince Dooley.

Joel Eaves, the university's athletic director, ended speculation about Georgia's part in the contest last night with the announcement of the trip to the 50,000-seat Memphis Memorial Stadium.

The announcement said bowl officials had advised Georgia that the Bulldogs' opponents will be named after college games next weekend.

Finals Next In Champs Tournament

Mrs. Lawrence Gapinski and Mrs. Don Roberts will be in the finals of the San Geronimo Women's Golf Club's championship tournament next week.

Mrs. Gapinski downed Mrs. Arthur Nichols 9 and 8 and Mrs. Roberts stopped Mrs. Charles Vincent 2 and 1 in semi-final play yesterday.

Mrs. John Gaylord took the hole in one contest at the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's Turkey Shoot tournament yesterday by getting to within 10 feet, 8 inches.

In another hole in one contest, Mrs. W. G. Risdon won it for the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club with an 8-foot, seven inch effort. Mrs. Bo Johnson was next at 9-5 followed by Mrs. Phillip Berven, at 10-1.

Low net winners at Las Gallinas were Mesdames Ken Moser, 72-17-55; R. J. Krugman, 83-26-57; and Robert Ritter, 71-11-60.

The results:

Kilby Named Terra Linda Top Gridder

Bruce Kilby, defensive end for the co-champion Terra Linda High School Trojan football team, was awarded the most valuable player" trophy last night at the school's athletic awards banquet.

Fullback Rod Powell was named the "most inspirational player" while the "most improved player" award went to Art Stackhouse.

Bob Bunnell took the "most valuable" honors on the Trojan cross-country team.

Trophies were awarded to each of the winners at the banquet sponsored by the Trojan Boosters Association at the high school.

Kilby, already holder of an all-Marin County Athletic League position and named lineman-of-the-year by Independent-Journal sportswriters, was selected by his Trojan teammates as was Powell, also chosen as all-MCAL. Stackhouse, defensive end, was named by his coaches and cross country team members selected Bunnell.

Remember Profit To Trim Any Loss

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q: Could you give me some advice on Baldwin-Montrose? I understand that this is a chemical and plastic stock. I keep buying the shares but they keep going down. Is this company in good hands and are they doing the good job I expected of them? I will appreciate your answer. — G. K.

A. I will be very much pleased to supply it. Baldwin-Montrose is in chemicals and plastics and it also has an important investment in DDT, which is a very competitive product. As far as I can determine, the management is capable, but the earnings picture in recent years has been variable and there has been little price progress for the stock. I cannot emphasize too strongly that shares should generally be bought for potential profit since they all contain a substantial measure of risk. Although I believe Baldwin's management is acquisition-minded and may well ultimately build a growing earnings base, I do not advise you to hold the shares. I think, in your circumstances, you will do better with less volatile Del Monte, a California company which is the world's largest canner of fruits and vegetables. The stock has had a generally rising pattern of earnings and dividends and does not look overvalued at current levels.

Q. Should a woman who knows nothing about investing have some broker invest her money? Will he buy the best stocks or will he be interested only in his commission? I am a 65-year-old widow and, God willing, I would like to retire some day. What do you think of simply ordering American Telephone, Jersey Standard, Borden and General Electric?

— I. H.

A. Most brokers are honest and conscientious men and would invest your money wisely. There is an occasional bad apple in every barrel, though, and since you have picked sound stocks yourself for moderate yield and appreciation, I advise you to give a broker an order for these issues.

Stocks Make Slight Gain; Trade Active

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a thin gain today as caution reigned prior to what will be a four-day weekend for many Wall Streeters. Trading was active.

The market rose boisterously in the morning when the ticker tape lagged as much as three minutes and the Dow Jones industrial average rose 6 points. As profits were taken, the rise in the Dow was pared to a point or so.

Gains still outnumbered losses by a wide margin.

Stock markets will be closed Thursday for Thanksgiving but will be open Friday.

IBM dropped about 5 points as it reacted to a published report that the government is seeking information from its competitors in an antitrust investigation of the computer industry. Among IBM's competitors, Control Data raced ahead half a dozen points, RCA, scientific Data and Honeywell a point or more.

Brunswick advanced more than a point as the most-active stock.

Among other actively traded issues, gains exceeding a point were made also by Occidental Petroleum, Sunray DX Oil, Allis-Chalmers, Gulf & Western and General Motors. Monogram Industries rose 2 in heavy trading.

Prices remained generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

THERE HAS BEEN some change in management of Furniture Fashions in Novato, now to be known as New Furniture Fashions.

Mrs. Donald Jonas, who formerly held the franchise from E. M. Norriss to operate the store, has given it up. Norriss, who also owns the Custom House in Napa, will continue both stores. Mrs. Ann Patrick of Novato, at the local store since last July, will manage it.

Hours will now be from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. through the week and from 10 to 2 on Saturdays.

THE FORMER PRINCESS Garden Shop in Sausalito has been taken over from Garrett and Mary Jo Hodgson by Wayne Hauner, a San Francisco businessman, who still has clothing store interests in the city.

On a per share basis, this equals $1.36 compared to $1.71 in 1966.

THEY'RE IN THE SOUP!

Turkey may be traditional in homes throughout Marin for Thanksgiving time, but at the Larkspur-Corte Madera Co-operative Nursery School it's soup that's traditional. The Tuesday before Thanksgiving the three-to-five year olds come bearing fresh vegetables to the school, and as they cut, peel and chop each one, learn whether it grows above or below ground and if it can be eaten raw as well as cooked. After the lesson the pieces go into soup stock prepared by school director Libby Byers. Here from left, budding chefs are Andrew Gilbraith, Catherine Alexander and Dawn Roberts. Peeking in from the back is Kathy Bartel, student teacher from College of Marin's nursery school program.

YOU HAVE TO STIR IT sometimes, says Karey Meriwether, who takes her job seriously as vegetables in the Thanksgiving soup simmers. While waiting for the vegetables to cook the youngsters busied themselves with art projects, but when it came to juice time, they found that their own soup was a delicious change. The nursery schoolers have had the soup tradition for the past three years. (Independent-Journal photos by Walt Lynott)

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Gathering Of The Clans For Thanksgiving

By MOLLY MARIN

Skiing, fishing and boating, and enjoying turkey dinner at home are among the activities Marin families plan for Thanksgiving celebrations tomorrow. Most families also will have reunions with their college-age sons and daughters and married children or with parents from the East and Midwest.

Among the large Mill Valley clans getting together for Thanksgiving will be those of Mrs. Delmar Clinton, who will have nine members of her family with five other guests, and Mrs. F. J. Connelly, whose 15 guests will all be relatives. New in the group will be the recently married Clark Woolstons — Mrs. Connelly's great-nephew and his bride, the former Toni Seaton of Corte Madera.

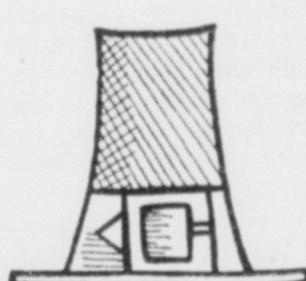

A NEIGHBORLY progressive dinner is planned by the Lyman Emersons and Robert Gravers, starting with cocktails at the Emersons' Gay 90's carriage house, proceeding to the Gravers' home for dinner and concluding at the Emersons' again for dessert. The Gravers' daughter Linda will be home from Sonoma

State and joining them and their son Gary will be Mrs. Gravers' mother, Mrs. L. K. Swain of Berkeley, and Mr. Gravers' relatives, Mrs. Sarah Broughton of San Francisco and Mrs. John Goss of Tacoma, Wash.

With the Emersons will be their daughter Cindy and Mrs. Emerson's aunt, Mrs. Hedwig Smith of Long Beach. The Emersons' daughter Vicki and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Edward Tubach, are on their way to Manila and hope to have Thanksgiving dinner with Mrs. Lloyd Clarke, formerly of Mill Valley, who now lives there.

THE BENJAMIN DRAPERS are having their traditional cocktail party and open house for neighbors, which they have hosted for 20 years, the main difference now being that the children they used to have to sit in high chairs are, like the Drapers' daughter Debbie, attending college. She will be home from the University of California at Davis.

THE DOUBLY RELATED Kent O. Seymours and W. H. Closes, who take turns having holiday dinners, will gather for Thanksgiving at the Seymours.

home and will be joined by the family of the Seymours' daughter and her husband, the Frederick Franklins of Menlo Park, and two foreign students from Stanford.

With the Robert Byards Jr. will be their daughter and her husband, the Donald Smiths, and their three children, together with Mr. Smith's mother, Mrs. Bessie Smith of Davis, and Don Albertson, who just came back from the Orient. His wife is still in Africa, where she is leading a group on a tour.

FAIRLY RECENT newcomers to Mill Valley from South Africa, the Richard Scibirds are having as guests his mother, Mrs. Richard Scibird of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. Peger Kane of Danville and Mrs. Miriam McCleod of San Francisco.

The A. Leonard Bjorklunds Jr. will have her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lord, who have just returned from a vacation in Mexico and Arizona.

Joining the family of Dr. and Mrs. Albert E. White — he is the Mill Valley mayor — will be, his noted concert pianist brother, Julian White of Berkeley, and his wife.

Mary Hamilton, the post-deb daughter of the William A. Hamiltons, is bringing four friends home with her for the holidays from the University of the Pacific.

The Robert Rudebecks are having 16 guests for dinner, and the George Wickhams are having his mother, Mrs. Paul Wickham, and brother, William Wickham, both of Sonoma.

IN SAUSALITO both the Edward Manys and Mrs. Ernest Morck and her son, Robert Wilson, will entertain eight guests, and Mrs. Frederick Palmer III is expecting her daughter, Ann Harrison Davies, and her roommate at the University of Nevada, and will have four other guests.

RESIDENTS OF MARIN Country Club Estates will be having varied activities on Thanksgiving, as some will enjoy the traditional turkey dinner at home and others will be boating and fishing.

The Gordon Walker family has invited the Leon Julian family to help christen their boat "Chipmunk." Gordon's mother, Mrs. Jean Walker, who is visiting from New York, will also attend the christening party. All will return to the Marin Country Club Estates home of the Walkers for the traditional dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson will entertain Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Kett of the Country Club Estates and also Mrs. Johnson's father, Peter G. Jensen of Burlington, Iowa, who will be visiting through the Christmas holiday, and their son Peter, a senior in the school of chemical engineering at the University of California at Santa Barbara, will be home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tattersfield, Mr. and Mrs. Tom McLaughlin of Livermore and Mrs. Keith Robinson and her two children of Fairfield.

The Chester MacPhees will have dinner with their daughter and family in Greenbrae, Mr. and Mrs. James Collins. Other family members joining them will be Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of Kentfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester MacPhee Jr. and their children from Ross.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Galt have invited guests from Southern California and the Bay Area to share their dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flachs will hold an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. at their home for friends in the estates area.

Marin Women

SECOND SECTION Wednesday, Nov. 22, 1967 13

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Goette will join the Lloyd Harrimans for dinner at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

SPENDING THE DAY on a boat fishing will be Dr. and Mrs. Alvin Haag of the estates. They will be joined by their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Silvestri Jr. and Russell and Laura Silvestri of Tiburon.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES P. Davies of Squaw Peak, Indian Valley Ranch, Novato will spend the holiday weekend at Pebble Beach Lodge.

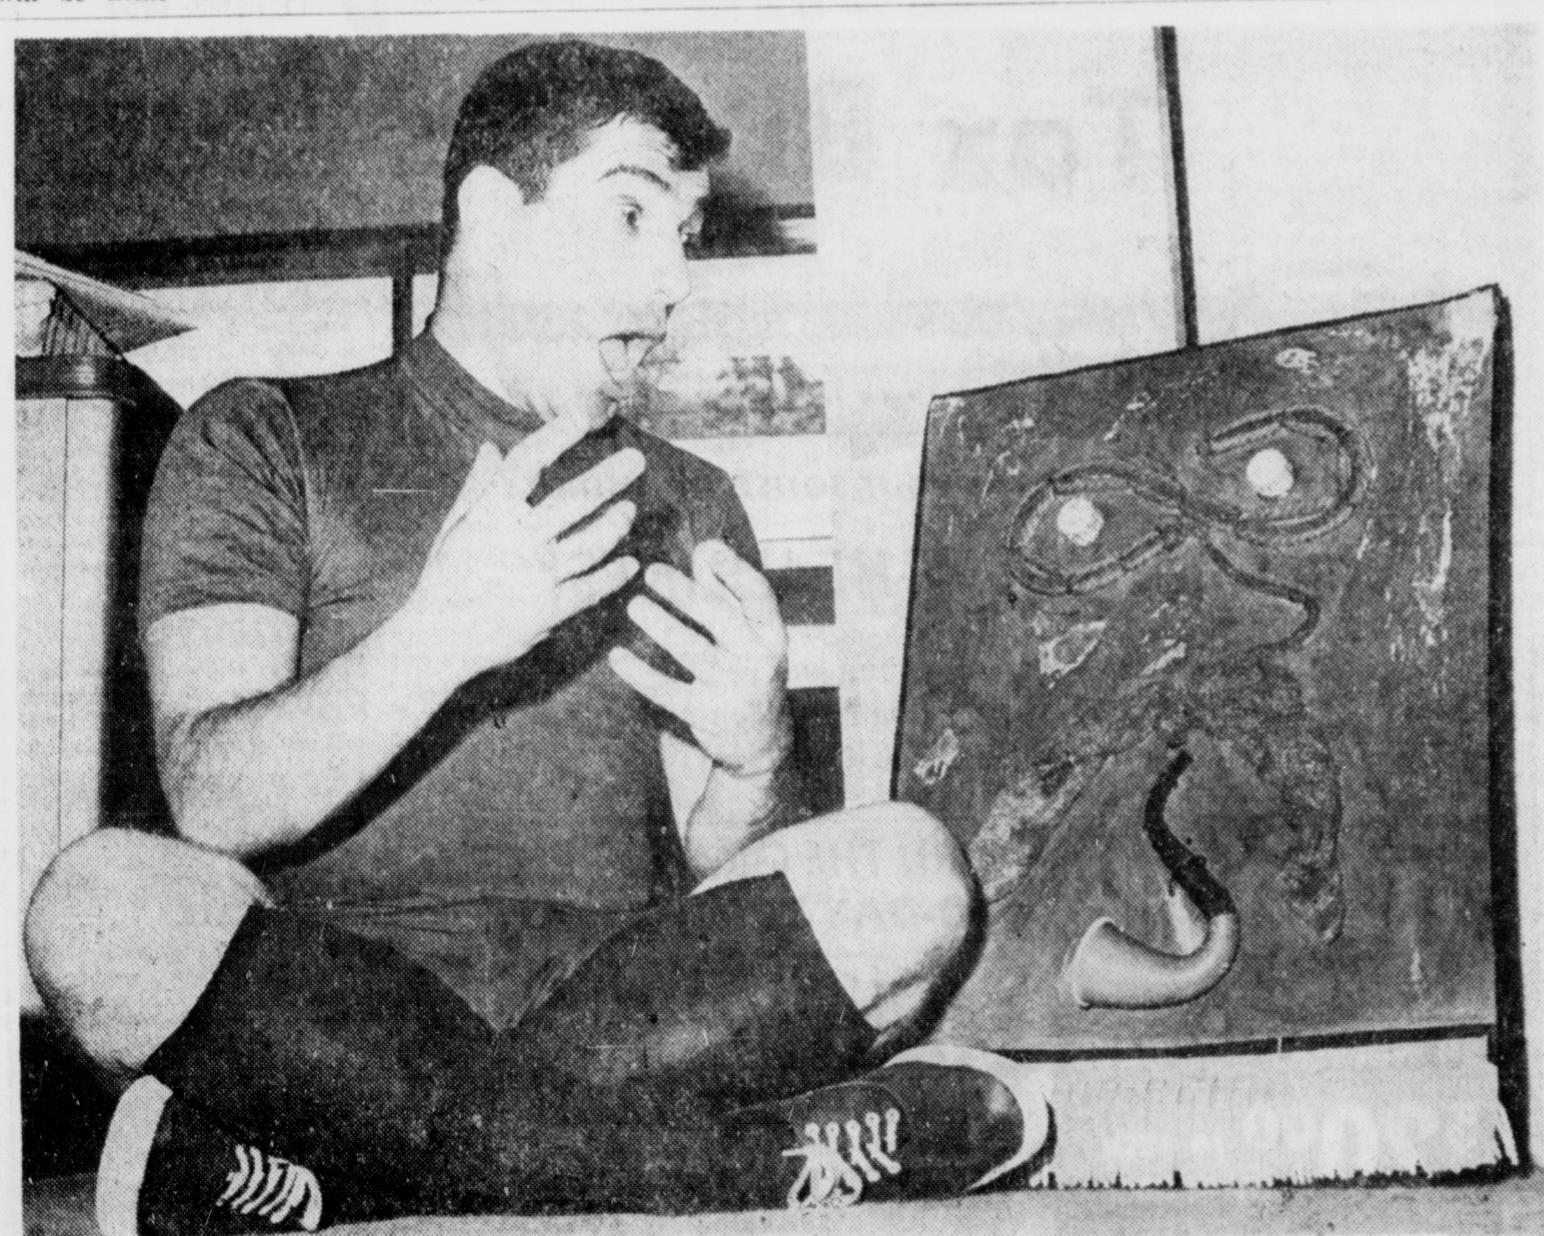

MOST SAUSALITANS seem to be planning treks to the snow country or joining relatives elsewhere for Thanksgiving. One large family gathering will be that at the home of the Sam Schonwassers, who have invited relatives and close friends for dinner.

THE JOHN ALEXANDERS will have nine guests, including the Jerome Downses and their two children and friends from San Francisco. The George Chapman's guests will be the Wint F. Saints and Mrs. Marie Tilley of San Francisco.

THE JOHN CHURCHILLS, who have just returned from two weeks in Mexico, are happy to have their daughter Elaine, a freshman at Arizona State, home for the holiday. Also home from Arizona State is Leane Ceccotti, daughter of the Lee Ceccotti of Larkspur.

AMONG THOSE having small dinner parties at home in Sausalito mostly with family and other relatives are the Roger Dinellis, Earl Thompsons, Allen Connors, R. Jerold Hoopers and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Scarborough, who are having their son John Scarborough and his family from Palo Alto.

THEIR 25TH wedding anniversary will be celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Cuneo of Kentfield with a reception and dinner dance Saturday. One hundred guests have been invited to attend the party, which will be held at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael. The Cuneos, 13, a freshman at Marin Catholic High School, Mr. Cuneo is the nephew of William Cuneo of San Anselmo, and the grandson of William Cuneo of San Rafael.

Nonsense Songs From Jolly Roger

By MARGARET GWATHMEY

He sings nonsense songs, he teases, he makes funny faces, he talks back to Uncle Waldo — and the children are on the edges of their seats. This is Jolly Roger, who takes his medicine with the most awful groans, but takes it.

Adults have had their comics since the first witty man found he could make a living as a court jester. Now Bay Area children have their own funny man, whose home base is the Ghirardelli Square Theater on weekend afternoons. But Jolly Roger doesn't wait there for the children he loves to amuse. He seeks them out during the week at birthday parties, in hospitals, at schools, wherever children are gathered.

Roger always takes Uncle Waldo with him. Uncle Waldo has a yarn face and a steel wool mustache, and smokes a meerschaum, but speaks with the voice of a piano. He is the adult member of the team and invokes his authority when Jolly Roger, like the child he plays, gets out of hand.

Grammar school children respond with delight to "A Trip To The Moon," especially when it is followed by one of Jolly Roger's original songs, "Giant Footsteps on the Moon." On a more familiar level, the morning routine of getting ready and going to school is hopelessly mixed up when Roger tells about it.

ENTHUSIASM for the child's world has led Jolly Roger to include in his schedule free visits to homes for the physically and mentally retarded, to hospitals, and to depressed area schools. In Marin County he has performed at the KMR School in Santa Venetia, The Cedars in Ross, and this summer he put on programs for the Easter Seal Society and the summer drama program of the Kentfield School District.

For the special audiences involved in homes for the retarded, Jolly Roger changes his routine to suit the group. There is less imagination and more direct contact with the children. He gets right in there and plays with them, talks to them, and gets as happy a response as he gets from his Ghirardelli Square audiences.

ORIGINALLY FROM New York, Jolly Roger is in private life Roger Rosenthal. He gave his first birthday party at the age of 19, and from there his children's shows snowballed to include a visit to an average of one hospital a week in addition to his regular shows, and such diverse audiences as Lions Clubs, lectures to Parents Without Partners and future teachers at San Francisco State College.

"I try to get across the significance of love," he says. And again, "Imagination is all important to a child's world, and a parent should encourage this. The difference between the imaginary and the real can be easily explained by parents, but the child understands this naturally."

Thanksgiving Foods—Certain Families Take To Variations

By JEANNE LESEM

NEW YORK (UPI)—Imagine Thanksgiving dinner with goose or leg of lamb instead of turkey, and turkey stuffing made with three kinds of meat but no bread, or with Boston cracker crumbs instead of bread.

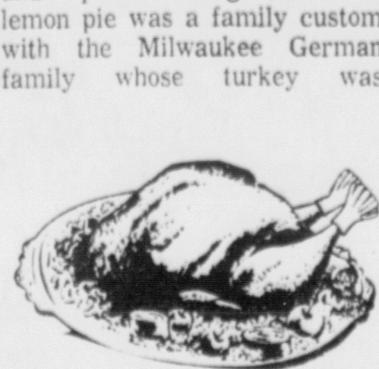

Imagine succotash of beans and corn dressed up with bell peppers, seasoned salt and pepper, and lemon meringue pie instead of mince or pumpkin.

Each of these improbable sounding variations on the Thanksgiving theme is part of the holiday tradition of a particular American family. More perhaps than we realize, our festive meals are influenced by factors other than historic precedent. Those influences include ethnic or national heritage, U.S. regional customs, family budget and personal taste.

THE EXAMPLES cited of individual family traditions are a small sampling of the many described by friends and acquaintances from different backgrounds and different parts of the United States.

Roast goose with American oyster stuffing was a tradition at our house—probably because goose had been a holiday tradition in Europe with our Alsatian, German and Polish forebears.

Both goose and leg of lamb sometimes substituted for turkey for the family of a UPI colleague of Anglo-Saxon heritage and with family ties in New England, the Midwest and the Pacific Northwest.

stuffed with bread and meat just because they preferred that flavor to pumpkin or mince pie.

ONE ALL-MEAT stuffing was described by a German immigrant who said the recipe had come from his wife's family in the Saar region of southern Germany. The other meat stuffing is part of the family tradition of a well-known Mexican-born cookbook author, food consultant and teacher of the blind who has lived in California for more than half a century.

"My mother, who was Spanish, never, never used bread stuffing," said Elena Zelayeta. "She made it like picadillo, with beef, pork and veal, prunes, raisins, chestnuts, almonds, wine and spices."

The spicy succotash is Mrs. Zelayeta's invention. So is a two-layer mince and pumpkin pie in her just published cookbook, "Elena's Favorite Foods California Style" (Premiere Hall).

THE BOSTON CRACKER crumb stuffing was tradition with the grandmother of a friend whose forebears included John and Priscilla Alden. She recalled that her grandmother in Plymouth, Mass., always insisted on the cracker variety because she considered bread stuffing too mushy.

Thanksgiving variations like these really aren't new or contrary to tradition. Modern menus tend to consist generally of roast turkey with one or more kinds of stuffing, cranberry sauce and/or jelly, candied sweet potatoes, several other vegetables, and mince and pumpkin pie.

But the first Thanksgiving featured things like venison, wild turkey, lobster, eels and succotash that was a hearty meal in itself.

Blend Zelayeta's mince and pumpkin pie is from "Elena's Favorite Foods California Style."

Line a 9-inch pie pan with pastry and spread it evenly with 1 cup of prepared mincemeat. Heat 1 cup of cream or  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup of undiluted evaporated milk and  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of water with 1 cup of canned pumpkin. Beat 2 eggs; beat in  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup of brown sugar, packed.  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon of salt and 1 teaspoon of pumpkin pie spice. Add pumpkin mixture slowly; when well blended, pour it slowly over mincemeat so that two layers remain separate. Bake below center of oven in preheated 400-degree oven until crust is crisp and custard is set — about 45 minutes. Cool before cutting and serving. Makes 6 servings.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Blabbermouth Should Button Up Her Lip While She Is Sleeping

DEAR HELEN:

I'm scared to go to sleep because I talk too much. This is an unusual problem but I swear it's true.

No matter what's on my mind, I blab it while I'm asleep. Jim my husband can ask me any kind of question, and I'll tell him. If I happen to have seen an old boyfriend that day, I talk about him. If I'm mad at Jim, I really let him have it, though I can't remember it the next day.

Thank goodness I told my husband all about my past life before we were married four years ago. He knows I wasn't an angel, but, darn it, I'd like to keep a few of my thoughts to myself.

This causes fights at our house. I talk about things I don't even think about, but Jim says I have to be thinking of them or I wouldn't talk. I tell him it isn't fair to ask me questions while I'm asleep, as he's just leading me on. Half the time he's jealous and mad because of something he worried out of me.

How can I button up my subconscious lip?—BRAIN PICKED TALKER

DEAR BPT:

More to the point: How can your husband batten down his jealous snooping? Before you believe this guff about answering questions and telling all in your sleep, ask proof, via a tape recorder. Could he be putting words in your mouth?

Next step, ask your doctor to prescribe a safe sleeping pill for you both!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Funny thing: you often hear women sigh and wish they had the easy life of a man — just eight hours of work a day, waited at home, week-ends off to watch the ball games on TV. But have you ever yet heard a man say he wanted the "soft" life of a woman?

Heck no! Men know they've got it good. When my husband has a little headache, he stays in bed, I tiptoe around and keep the children quiet, bring him coffee, aspirin and rub his temples.

But when I have a rip-roaring cold, it's business as usual. Home and children don't wait, nor do husbands. To get a day off, I have to produce a real dockwallop—like a new baby.

Women will never achieve equality because men won't give up their slaves. If we were really equal, we'd get as much time off as they do, and they'd treat us with consideration instead of condescension.

I wonder what would happen if every woman in the country took a "Wives Week Off" at the same time, leaving husbands to cope with kids, housework, diapers, ironing, etc.? Then they'd learn how necessary we are.

And then it might be too late, for with a week of freedom under our belts, we just might never come back!—FED UP

DEAR F.U.:

Oh, yes you would. But you sound desperate enough so that you really should try it and see.

—H.

you really should try it and see.

19th Century Look By Modern Painter

By LAURA DEVENDORF

In spite of the way-out look of much critically accepted art today, there is still room at the top for such old-fashioned ideas as romantic realism. There's room, at least, if the approach is as believable as that in the oils by Geoffrey Lewis.

The San Rafael artist's show through Dec. 8 at Pomeroy Gallery, 449 Pacific Street in San Francisco has a 19th Century look, reminiscent of the Hudson River and early California schools. But when Lewis keeps his works simple, he imbues it with an honesty that is as open and fresh as the winds that sweep across so many of his landscapes.

RESPONSE

Basically, he is a painter who makes you respond. He makes you feel things — the warmth of sun against the cool of shadow and the singing sense of free space in expansive hillsides, sea and sky. And he is convincing, primarily because he knows how to eliminate distracting non-essentials.

For a romantic, he has a sturdy sense of design, a feeling for natural mass that is far more absorbing than a ton of literal detail. Through him, a block of deepened green against a sweep of lime reads trees and sun and hill more realistically and with more poetic power than if every tree branch and painted in the 1800s. The romantic realism of his 19th Century style also extends to his still lifes and figure studies.

Drunken Driving Sentences Given

Two persons were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving offenses.

Glen Eugene Woods of 77 Bamboo Terrace, San Rafael, was fined $200 and placed on six months probation. He was arrested by the California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 Nov. 2.

James Keith Menges of 1529 Buchanan Street, Novato, was fined $146 and placed on six months probation. The CHP arrested him Nov. 13 on Highway 101.

Store Emptied By Bomb Hoax

Young Brothers Furniture store at 7514 Redwood Highway, Novato, was emptied briefly Monday after a bomb scare, according to Novato Police.

Both the store and the Novato Police station received call at 10:26 a.m. that a bomb had been planted in the store, police reported.

Police cleared the employees and one customer from the store and searched it, but found no trace of a bomb, police reported.

Art Films To Be Shown At Center

Award-winning films from the "film as art" category at this year's 1967 San Francisco Film Festival will be seen at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday in a presentation by the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts at the municipal golf course clubhouse, Buena Vista Avenue, Mill Valley.

Discussion will be led by Jameson Goldner, assistant professor of film at San Francisco State College, and several local independent film producers will take part.

Land—Foundation of Wealth

In all times, land has been regarded as the cornerstone of man's riches, securing his fortune and aiding its growth.

Today is no different. More than any other investment, land offers protection from the vicissitudes of the economy. In periods of inflation, land values move ahead faster than prices in general. When prices are declining, land resists this trend more than other investments.

Has our complex, dynamic urbanized society made it more difficult to invest in land today? To some extent it has, and that is why professional specialists like Land Investors Research have evolved — to fill a modern need in a modern way.

As financial consultants to the land investor, we examine and advise on present holdings as well as prospective purchases. Our staff is expert in the fields of land planning, engineering, economics and real estate law. Our services include acquisition, financing, planning, economic research and reporting, feasibility evaluation, and marketing.

We circulate many bulletins on this interesting and profitable subject — land — which might interest you, your banker, or your stock broker. For a list of our free publications, write or call today!

to a block of single-colored orderly shapes against a stark background, it too assumes an unusual quiet power.

For the rest, Lewis shows he too can fall prey to the realist's hazard of overinclusion. But too much subject matter or detail doesn't happen often and his direct and freely painted pieces more than make up for the overloaded few.

His appeal is usually immediate and, when it is, it is also lasting. He has a gift for capturing beautiful moments, just as they are, honestly, in essence and without pretense. And viewing his work is a refreshing change from the purely intellectual challenges offered by most of the upper echelon these days.

STILL LIFE

Certainly Lewis is most appealing when painting subdued, understated versions of the northern California countryside. But when he reduces a still life

DRAMA REVIEW

'Under Milkwood' Images Brought To Stage Life

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — Butcher from light to light to achieve the effect of a "follow spot" without the aesthetic jarring which usually accompanies such lighting.

Thomas begins his day in the fishing village of Llareggub with two narrators (Ray Reinhardt and Paul Shernar) describing the dreams of the sleeping inhabitants. The play is filled with sound effects, all done by the cast — gulls, creaking hawsers, dogs, cats, cocks, clocks, whistles and song.

AWAKENING

As the town awakens and the characters begin their day, we learn the stories of their lives, their loves, sorrows and frustrations.

And as the day ends, so does the play, quietly with dusk falling. The citizens of Llareggub have lived another day in their drab, uneventful lives, made vitally interesting by the magic of the poet's words.

The cast is uniformly good, although one wishes Shernar would get over his failing of stumbling on familiar lines. Reinhardt, Ken Ruta as Mog Edwards and Mr. Pugh, Rene Auberjonois as Reverend Eli Jenkins, Sinbad Sailors, and a sleeve-twisting schoolboy, are all supertative.

LOST LOVE

DeAnn Mears as Polly Garter, singing of her lost love "Wee Willie Wee," is a grand combination of lust for present life and sorrow for the past, and is most effective in her serious scene as Rosie Probert with Captain Cat. Judith Mihalyi in her various roles is expert and brings the house down as the 17-year-old who says "I'll sin until I blow up!"

Ellen Geer and Barbara Colby are good, but I did not find them quite as satisfactory as Carol Teitel and Carol Mayo Jenkins in last year's production.

Young Artist Guild members are selected from tenth year certificate of merit students of MTAC teachers throughout the entire state and is the highest honor the association can confer on a student. Begun in 1949, the guild provides a bridge from student to professional life.

Young Artist, a student at Sonoma State College, received his tenth year certificate under Ruth Caulfield of Petaluma and is now a pupil of Harold Logan of Berkeley.

He will perform works by Bach, Brahms, Ravel and Hindemith.

To Read Poetry

Tom Darby of Mill Valley and Joanne Hotchkiss of San Francisco will read their poetry in the Mill Valley Library Gallery from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Dec. 17.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

(Advertisement)

- NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Dixie School District, Marin County, California, will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for the construction of THE VALLECITO INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL 1967-1968.
- Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with Rockwell & Banwell, 50 Green Street, San Francisco, California 94111, where same may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five (5) days after the bids are opened.
- Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of the Architect, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond in the amount of 10 per cent of the bid amount, made payable to the order of the Dixie School District. Bids must be sealed and filed at the District Office, located at 35 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, California, prior to 4:00 p.m., December 7, 1967, where and at which time they will be publicly opened and declared.
- The above mentioned check or bid bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract or to furnish the necessary bonds, after being requested to do so by the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District.
- The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 50 per cent of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100 per cent of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District.
- Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California, or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Trustees of the Dixie School District has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract, which will be awarded the successful bidder.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING BY LOCAL AGENCY FORMATION COMMISSION OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN UPON RESOLUTION FOR ANNEXATION OF TERRITORY TO SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 1

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a resolution for the annexation of certain territory to Sanitary District No. 1 of Marin County has been filed with the Executive Officer of the Local Agency Formation Commission of the County of Marin. Said resolution is on file at the office of the said Executive Officer, Room 331, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, and may be examined by any interested person. Reference is hereby made to said resolution for a description of the annexation, the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed, proposed terms and conditions, if any, and for further particulars.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that said Executive Officer has fixed December 7, 1967 at the hour of 7:30 p.m. in the Board of Supervisors Chambers, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, as the date, time and place of public hearing by said resolution.

Dated November 22, 1967

JOHN F. BARROWS,
Executive Officer

No. 2052 Nov. 22, 1967

NOTICE OF FILING OF ASSESSMENT AND TIME OF HEARING THEREON

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 21st day of November, 1967, there was filed with the undersigned Secretary of the San Rafael Sanitation District, Marin County, California, an assessment to cover the sum due for the work and improvement done and performed by the contractor, under and pursuant to of the construction of improvement of 1911, reference being made to Resolution of Intention No. 117 of the Board of Directors of the San Rafael Sanitation District in the matter of the construction of improvements and acquisition of rights of way in Bret Harte Heights Sewer Assessment District, San Rafael, Sanitation District, Marin County, California, adopted on May 19, 1966, for the description of work and improvement, and of the district to be assessed, pay the costs and expenses thereof, said assessment being made pursuant to the provisions and requirements of said Act, according to the character of the work done, and there was attached thereto a diagram of said district as required by said Act.

Said assessment shows the amount to be paid to the contractor for said work and improvement contracted for and performed, together with all incidental expenses, and shows the amount of each assessment against each lot or parcel of land assessed to pay the same.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the 13th day of December, 1967, at the hour of 8:00 o'clock P.M. is the time fixed by the undersigned, Secretary of the San Rafael Sanitation District, Marin County, California, for hearing and written appeal claiming that any portion of the work for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the contract or having or making any objection to the correctness of the assessment or diagram or other act, determination or proceedings of the Engineer of Work or the District Engineer. Any appeal must be in writing and must be on file in the office of the Secretary prior to the day herein fixed for hearing. The place of hearing is the regular meeting place of the Board of Directors of the San Rafael Sanitation District, located in the Council Chambers, City Hall, Fifth and "D" Streets, San Rafael, California.

Dated: November 21, 1967.

C. PAUL BETTINI,
Secretary, San Rafael Sanitation District, Marin County, California

No. 2056 Nov. 22, 1967

Sheriff's Deputy Does Herd Riding

A little affinity for the life of a cowboy is a good trait for a Marin County Sheriff's deputy to possess.

Deputy J. O. Fitzgerald discovered this yesterday afternoon.

He spent three hours of his working day herding 70 Holstein cows, loose in the area of Bel Marin Keys Drive and Hamilton Drive, back into a nearby pasture.

Owner of the beasts was not immediately discovered, he reported.

Three persons arrested by Sausalito Police Saturday were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court Monday on misdemeanor charges of being present in a place where marijuana was kept.

They were: Nancy Lee McClary, 23, no known address; Richard R. Savage, 20, no known address; and Terry A. Hensley, 23, of San Diego.

James Adrian Smith, 20, of 1065 Calle Empinado, Novato, was eastbound when his car ran off the road, hit a guard rail and overturned at 12:00 a.m. according to the California Highway Patrol.

Smith told patrolmen he would see his own doctor for a cut left eye and scraped left elbow.

Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Malaspina, 39, of 1 Frustuck Avenue, Fairfax, received a $200 fine and was placed on six months probation Monday by Marin Municipal Judge Alvin H. Goldstein, when she pleaded guilty to drunken driving.

Mrs. Malaspina was arrested at Bolinas and Frustuck Avenues Friday by the Fairfax Police Department.

One-Car Smash Hurts Novatoan

Minor injuries were incurred by a Novato man in a single-car accident early yesterday on Lucas Valley Road, two miles east of Nicasio.

James Adrian Smith, 20, of 1065 Calle Empinado, Novato, was eastbound when his car ran off the road, hit a guard rail and overturned at 12:00 a.m. according to the California Highway Patrol.

Smith told patrolmen he would see his own doctor for a cut left eye and scraped left elbow.

Fairfax Woman Gets $200 Driving Fine

Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Malaspina, 39, of 1 Frustuck Avenue, Fairfax, received a $200 fine and was placed on six months probation Monday by Marin Municipal Judge Alvin H. Goldstein, when she pleaded guilty to drunken driving.

Mrs. Malaspina was arrested at Bolinas and Frustuck Avenues Friday by the Fairfax Police Department.

Family Reunion Is Planned At Johnson Ranch

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Text of President Johnson's Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

By the President of the United States of America

A proclamation

The first American tradition

grew out of gratitude for survival.

The first family has extended

Thanksgiving invitations to Mr.

and Mrs. Gerard P. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill., the parents of daughter Lucy's husband Pat,

and to Mr. and Mrs. James S.

Robb of Milwaukee, parents of

Lynda Bird's fiance, Marine

Capt. Charles S. Robb.

Also invited for the weekend were Patrick Nugent's brother,

Gerry, a former Marine officer;

his wife Phyllis, and their infant son Gerard III, who is approximately the same age as the President's grandson, Patrick Lyndon Nugent, 5 months.

Tradition will prevail for Thanksgiving dinner at the LBJ Ranch.

The menu has not varied through the years.

The spread will include roast

turkey, cornbread dressing,

giblet gravy, green beans

amandine, sweet potatoes with marshmallows, asparagus,

molded cranberry salad, ambrosia,

and angel food cake.

Attorney Is Named To Agency

Novato attorney James A. Duckworth was named yesterday to the Marin County Redevelopment Agency to succeed Jack D. Kinney, who resigned effective immediately.

Kinney's term on the agency runs until April 17, 1968.

Supervisor William A. Gross of Novato moved for Duckworth's appointment, which was seconded by Supervisor Peter H. Behr. The supervisors voted 4-0 for the choice.

Supervisor Chairman Thomas T. Storer was absent on vacation.

Kinney's resignation means a vacancy on the Marin County Housing Authority also. But this position remains unfilled. Supervisors said they wanted to wait for several weeks for a federal ruling to determine whether a person living in low cost public housing can serve on the authority.

Supervisors this morning met Galen Foster, new North Bay Division manager for Pacific Gas and Electric, who

Many Church Services Tonight, Tomorrow

Ecumenical services will again mark the spirit of Thanksgiving in Marin churches.

Tonight will see the second annual interfaith service at 8 o'clock in the parish hall of St. Isabella's Catholic Church in Terra Linda.

Last year more than 500 attended the rites in which 10 Las Gallinas Valley churches participated — the same number to join together tonight.

Preaching at the ecumenical exercise will be Rabbi Morton Hoffman of Congregation Rodef Sholom.

OTHER CHURCHES

Participating churches will include Aldersgate Methodist Church, Faith Lutheran Church, Christ Presbyterian Church, Episcopal Church of the Nativity, Congregation Kol Shofar, Lucas Valley Community Church, St. Isabella's, First Congregational Church, Congregation Rodef Sholom and Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church.

Also scheduled tonight is a joint Thanksgiving Eve service at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary chapel in Strawberry.

Participating in the 8 p.m. service will be laymen as well as ministers from the Community Church of Mill Valley, First Baptist Church of Mill Valley, First Southern Baptist Church of Mill Valley and the Baptist Church of Tiburon as well as the seminary.

Guest minister will be Rev. George P. Carter of the Methodist Church of Mill Valley.

A joint service also will be held at 8 p.m. today at the Bolinas Calvary Church for congregations of the Stinson Beach and Bolinas Calvary Presbyterian churches.

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 9 Shepherd Way, Tiburon, will conduct a community service at 4:45 p.m. today with Rev. Calvin G. Frisch speaking on "The Full Measure of Thanksgiving." Special music by both the youth and adult choirs and organist Kenneth Borchardt will be presented.

HOLY COMMUNION

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of Marin City will host a 6:30 p.m. service today for its members and those of the Sausalito Presbyterian and Christ Episcopal churches of Sausalito.

A Holy Communion service will be held at 8 p.m. today at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

A traditional Thanksgiving service will be held at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross at 10 a.m. tomorrow, a joint venture with the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. Dr. Henry Kuizenga of the San Anselmo church will present the sermon and Rev.

Liberace Brother Plans To Marry

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — George Liberace, brother of the famed pianist, yesterday took out a marriage license to wed Mrs. Eudora Albrecht of Hollywood.

Liberace, 56, refused to reveal when the wedding would take place. He said only that it "could take place anytime."

"Actually we're trying to keep this quiet for personal reasons," added the pianist, who once accompanied his brother.

Curriculum Session

New curriculum developments will be discussed by the educational objectives committee of the Sausalito School District when it meets at 8 p.m. Monday in the library of Richardson Bay School. The meeting is open to the public.

1. (Easiest rule!) Watch Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade on Thursday, Nov. 23.

2. Draw a picture of something you especially liked in the parade, like a float, a balloon, or a clown. (Use lots of crayons, paints, or colored pencils.) Show how colorful it is.

3. Make your drawing on a piece of paper no smaller than 8½ x 11 inches or larger than 11 x 14 inches.

4. Plainly print your name, address, age, and birthdate on the lower right-hand corner of the drawing. (Grown-ups can help in this part if necessary.)

5. Bring your drawing to any Macy's Toy Dept. before the store closing on Saturday, Dec. 2nd (which is the day the contest ends) and put it in the "Parade Contest Box." If you can't come in, mail your entry to your nearest Macy's. Entries are not returnable, and members of Macy's employees' families are not eligible to enter.

6. Prizes will be given in three age groups: under 7, 7-10, and 10-12, plus a Grand Prize. All ages will be verified. Since prizes will be given in each Macy's store, that makes 33 separate contests...199 prizes!

7. Drawings will be judged by age of entrant, use of color, and imagination. Winners will be notified by mail on December 11. Names of all winners will be posted in the Toy Department of each Macy's store.
